Mothers March in City To Be Held Tonight; March in County Longer

The Mothers March on Polio will definitely be held in Washington C. H. Thursday night (tonight.)

Eli Craig, chairman of the county March of Dimes, announced that the door-to-door canvass would go ahead as scheduled despite Wednesday's snows which made walking and driving hazardous.

"We conducted last year's March on ice," Craig said, "and we did pretty well, too."

The canvass will be conducted according to the same plan that has become a custom here, announced Mrs. Herbert Sollars, chairman of the city March.

Every householder who wants to contribute is asked to leave his porchlight to mark his home for the worker covering his street.

"If anyone is missed tonight," Mrs. Sollars said Thursday, "he can simply telephone me Friday at 2-3651 and a worker will call to collect the contribution."

WHILE the idea of a one-day Mothers March in the rural areas of the county has had to be all but abandoned because of slick roads, Thursday night was expected to mark the peak of workers' activity.

However the rural canvass will continue through the end of the week in many townships, according to Mrs. C. E. Rhoad, chairman of the rural March.

"If anyone who wants to contribute has not had a call from a worker by the beginning of next week," she added, "we would greatly appreciate a phone call either to the township captain or to me at 4-5774."

Meanwhile, plans were completed for the Blue Crutch sale, newest of the March of Dimes drives.

Aimed at Saturday shoppers in the business district of Washington C. H., the Blue Crutch sale will be carried out by 28 members of the Senior Y-Teen Club at Washington C. H. High School.

STARTING at 9:30 A. M. and continuing until 5 P. M. Saturday, the girls will patrol six busy blocks. They will be armed with coin cans and blue plastic pins in the form of crutches to mark shoppers who contribute.

The 28 Y-Teen volunteers have divided themselves into five shifts. Each shift will work for an hour and a half, patrolling the business district.

Rep. Polk, a teacher and farmer, is seeking his tenth term.

There has been nothing yet to indicate that he will have any opposition for the Democratic nomination, but he will have opposition in the general election in November.

There are at least two candidates for the Republican nomination already in the field. And, by odd coincidence, they live in Highland County, too. Both have sought their party's nomination before, but neither was successful.

S. A. Ringer, Leesburg real estate agent, was the first in the race for the Republican nomination. He announced he would have another try for it nearly three weeks ago.

Then about a week later, Albert L. Daniels of Greenfield formally announced he would seek the nomination also. Daniels, a former state senator, was a candidate for the nomination in 1952 and again in 1954.

Leo Blackburn of Portsmouth won the Republican nomination both of those years, but lost to Rep. Polk in the general elections.

Daniels said he had learned that Blackburn would not be a candidate this time.

City and County Indebtedness Far Below Average for State

Fayette County and Washington C. H. both rank low in bonded indebtedness compared to most Ohio counties and cities.

A statement from the office of State Auditor James A. Rhodes, reveals that Ohio cities, as a whole, created new debt more than twice as fast in 1954 and they paid off the old debt, with the result that the total bonded indebtedness of the 139 Ohio cities climbed to a new high, just a little more than a year ago, reaching a total of $657,896, 039 by the end of 1954.

This was a gain of nearly $94,000,000, over the previous year. Old bonds paid off by cities in 1954 totaled nearly $60,000,000. New bonds issued amounted to almost $131,000,000.

The general bonded indebtedness of Washington C. H. now is $34,750 after $12,750 was paid off last year. City officials say that this balance will be paid off in three years under the present program of bond retirement. This is regarded as an excellent showing under present economical financing as handled by the present city administration.

HOWEVER, this general indebtedness balance does not cover all the unpaid bonds for which the city is responsible, but it does carry the general operation charges.

There are mortgage revenue bonds in addition, issued years ago in connection with the construction of the city's sewage disposal plant. These now amount to approximately $44,000, but this is being paid on a regular program of $8,000 annually from sewage revenue funds paid in by users of the sewage disposal system.

There are also special assessment bonds, paid on new sewers and special street or other special improvement assessments, which total $69,050 outstanding. Last year $13,546 was paid off in these special assessment bonds, which are paid by property owners in certain localities.

Taking into consideration the sewage disposal operation, plus the special new sewers and street improvements.

Hair Strands Play Role In Death Verdict

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Burton W. Abbott today faced the prospect of death in San Quentin's gas chamber because of two strands of hair, 18 bits of fiber and less than a handful of clay.

Largely on microscope and test tube analysis, a jury yesterday convicted the 27-year-old father of kidnapping and beating to death 14-year-old Stephanie Bryan. The seven men and five women deliberated six days before taking the first ballot.

Abbott's red-haired wife Georgia, a beauty parlor operator, heard the condemnation of her husband, father of her 4-year-old son Chris, in grim-faced silence.

It was Georgia's July 15 discovery of Stephanie's red purse in the basement of the Abbott home and her call to police that pointed suspicion at Abbott.

Next day FBI agents dug up Stephanie's brassiere and books in the basement. Four days later, a rancher's dogs led to her crude grave.

Dr. Paul Kirk, nationally known criminologist, testified a soil test showed that clay nine inches deep in the grave matched clay from Abbott's boots. He said two strands of hair found in Abbott's car matched Stephanie's hair; that 18 fibers matched those of two sweaters, a petticoat and a skirt.

New Peace Drive By Kremlin Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russian bosses Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita S. Khrushchev appear to be launching a new peace offensive designed to revive the "spirit of Geneva" and regain a measure of Western good will.

The timing of their moves suggests too that they want to offset in advance any criticism of their recent behavior which President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Eden may make after talks here next week.

Two developments may signal a renewed Soviet emphasis on peace:

1. Premier Bulganin's letter to Eisenhower, delivered with full diplomatic ceremony yesterday. While the contents have not been officially disclosed, the letter was described by the White House as friendly in tone and containing "certain ideas" for Eisenhower to "study further in the interest of promoting world peace."

2. A three-hour interview which Communist party boss Khrushchev gave in Moscow to Marshall Macduffie, a New York attorney who is a long-time acquaintance.

MACDUFFIE quoted Khrushchev as saying he thinks American leaders including Eisenhower basically strive for peace and do not want war.

Khrushchev also said Soviet leaders believe there should be further relaxation of international tensions, according to Macduffie. He described all Khrushchev's references to Eisenhower as "very friendly."

Macduffie, now representing the International Trade Shows of New York, was chief of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration in the Soviet Union just after World War II. He first met Khrushchev then, and saw him again on trips to Russia in 1953 and 1954.

He told newsmen in Moscow that Khrushchev bracketed Sir Anthony Eden and French Premier Edgar Faure among the Western leaders who in the opinion of Soviet officials do not want war.

Washington sources familiar with the letter indicated it made a broad approach to the problem of U. S.-Soviet relations and was not, as officials had thought likely in advance of its delivery, devoted primarily to disarmament.

One informant described it as "going beyond disarmament."

Man Is Shot By Inlaw At Wife's Bier

XENIA (AP)—In a funeral home filled with relatives, a distraught man yesterday shouted, "You killed sis," and shot and wounded his brother-in-law whose wife lay in a coffin nearby.

Police jailed Ray Fraley, 27, brother of the deceased woman. His brother-in-law, Russell W. Liming, in his mid-30s, was taken to a hospital where his condition was reported fair. No charge was filed against Fraley immediately.

An investigating officer said Fraley, in a statement, claimed Liming's wife, Charlotte, 32, had been neglected by her husband by being left alone nights on the Limings' Clinton County farm, four miles north of Wilmington.

Mrs. Liming died Monday after a year's illness, relatives said. Her body was in the Xenia funeral home when the shooting took place.

An autopsy has been made but cause of death is not yet known, said Clinton County Coroner John K. Williams.

Fraley fired three times from his pocket with a .22 caliber pistol he had bought earlier in the day, police said. Liming was hit twice, once below the heart.

Heroic Mother, 41, Dies From Burns

CHILLICOTHE (AP)—An heroic mother of five died today of injuries suffered Tuesday while rescuing her young son and a nephew from her burning home.

The victim, Mrs. Monroe Kimbler, 41, suffered first and second degree burns over her entire body when, in spite of a broken ankle and a blazing dress, she pulled her son Paul, 3, and her nephew Dickie Patterson, also 3, to safety before collapsing in the snow.

She told officials later that the flames which engulfed her home near Richmondale may have been started by the two boys.

Her four other children were in school at the time.

Cancer Attack Tops List Of 5-Point Plan

28 Pct. Increase Seen Needed In U. S. Outlay For Medical Assistance

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower asked Congress today to vote $126,525,000 for basic research to penetrate the "dark mystery" of cancer and to combat other leading killers.

The request was made in a five-point program laid before the legislators in a special message calling for "a renewed and reinvigorated attack on our health problems."

Eisenhower called for action in five general areas, providing for:

1. A 28 per cent increase in federal funds for basic medical research to a total of $126,525,000.
2. A new program of grants, $250 million over the next five years, search and training facilities.

This money would go to state, local and private institutions with a provision that they must supply "at least equal amounts in matching funds."

3. "Further steps to meet health personnel shortages. No specific amount was recommended here, but Eisenhower said the number of physicians being graduated from medical schools is barely keeping pace with the increase in population, and that the number of dentists and nurses is diminishing relative to population."

4. ACTION to strengthen certain other basic health services through out the nation.

His fifth point was that of meeting costs of medical care and embracing his plan possibly to submit later legislation for pooling of insurance risks.

Under this item, the President also recommended that Congress authorize a separate program through which the federal government would match funds expended by the states and localities for medical care for the indigent aged, the blind, the permanently and totally disabled, and dependent children.

In noting progress already made in the medical research field, Eisenhower singled out "the widespread use of the Salk poliomyelitis vaccine within the last year."

He said it "has proved highly effective in reducing the threat of paralytic poliomyelitis to many of our children."

Eisenhower noted that a current program providing federal funds to assist the states in providing free Salk vaccine for many children and expectant mothers will expire Feb. 15. He recommended an extension to June 30, 1957, and appropriation of $30 million to complete the program.

The stepped-up research program which he recommended would provide:

For cancer $32,437,000; heart diseases, $13,345,000; neurology and blindness $12,196,000; infectious and parasitic diseases $9,799,000; dental disorders $2,971,000; and $11,922,000 for general research programs of the national institutes of health.

On the point of health personnel, Eisenhower renewed the call, sounded in his health message last year, for enactment of legislation to provide for (A) a five-year program of grants for training practical nurses (B) traineeships for graduate nurses, and (C) authority to establish traineeships in other public health specialties.

As for strengthening basic health services, the President called for, among other things:

Sickness surveys—he said the last comprehensive survey of illness in the United States was made 20 years ago, and that since then American medicine has experienced the most rapid and dramatic changes in its history. He recommended that Congress authorize public health service to conduct new surveys.

Expansion of medical care facilities—extension for two more years of the federal-state program to aid in construction of hospitals and other medical care facilities was recommended. The budget calls for a 19 million dollar increase in funds to accomplish that.

Mental illness—The President renewed his call for authorization of a new program of mental health project grant: aimed at improving the quality of care in mental institutions, as well as putting administration of such institutions on a higher level.

Water and air pollution—Eisenhower recommended strengthening of the water pollution act expiring on June 30. He also appealed for (Please turn to page two)

Reorganization Of Red Cross Here Is Planned

Meeting To Be Held Thursday Night At Memorial Hospital

The Red Cross is at the crossroads in Fayette County and what goes on at a public meeting at Memorial Hospital here at 8 o'clock (Tonight) Thursday night may determine whether this humanitarian organization takes the road out of the county or the one to more and better service to the people.

The Red Cross chapter here has been virtually without a guiding hand for some time; the Thursday night meeting was arranged by some of those who served with it in the past in the hope that it could be rejuvenated.

In a nutshell, this is being referred to as a reorganization meeting, although admittedly that term is more of an expression of hope.

Tom Mark, who has resigned as chairman of the blood program after heading bloodmobile and blood bank activities here for the last four years, Don Wood, who has resigned as the chairman of the chapter, and Miss Christene Evans, the administrator of Memorial Hospital who said they realized the importance of the blood program, are the moving spirits behind the reorganization and rejuvenation meeting.

WHILE THE meeting is open to the public—actually the sponsors have been spreading the word around that everyone interested in the Red Cross is not only welcome, but wanted.

Mark said although he did not expect a big gathering, he emphasized that it is imperative that the people take an interest in the Red Cross reorganization.

The alternative, he conceded, was the complete abandonment of the Red Cross here and the loss of all the service it provides.

Mark pointed out that he and the Cincinnati was the birthplace of weather forecasting and the first forecaster was Cleveland Abbe.

In 1869 Abbe entered into an agreement with the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce for a three-month trial of weather forecasting.

His experiment was a success from the start, although he lacked most of the facilities available to the present day weather forecaster.

Congress passed the National Weather Service Bill and reports from nine main weather stations in the nation were consolidated at the Cincinnati Observatory and carried by Western Union Telegraph for a run of 10 months.

The reports were posted for public information and published in newspapers.

Cleveland Abbe laid a piece of thin tissue paper over a 7 by 10 inch map of the U. S., and drawing circles around the weather stations, added shadings for cloudy areas and letter symbols for rain, wind and other climatic data.

Thus, the first weather map was born. A few days later, using a larger format, the maps were manifolded and widely distributed.

By congressional directive the business of predicting the weather was turned over to the Signal Corps of the U. S. Army.

In July, 1891, this activity was transferred to a special section of the Department of Agriculture—the formal beginning of the U. S. Weather Bureau. Today, this public service without which much of our commercial life could not successfully function, is carried on under the Department of Commerce.

The foregoing information is carried in a biographical publication edited by Cleveland Abbe's son, Dr. Truman Abbe, Washington, D. C., cancer specialist, who has since died.

Richard Lee Neff Is Awarded $1,000

Judge John P. Case, in a decision in the case of Richard Lee Neff against Robert C. Palmer and The Ohio Casualty Insurance Co. in which Neff sought $5,000 for malicious prosecution, found in favor of Neff and awarded $1,000 damages.

It was indicated that the case probably would be carried to the higher court.

Judge Case's decision covers 28 pages and was written after he had made an exhaustive study of all angles of the case. In it he cites various decisions in similar cases.

It was charged by Palmer, who was a member of the Washington C. H. police force at the time, that he had arrested Neff for carrying a dangerous weapon, and filed a charge against him. At a trial in municipal court July 15, 1953, Neff was acquitted of the charge.

His arrest, imprisonment and the charges, with resultant publicity claimed damaged him in the sum of $5,000, Neff claimed.

PALMER and the insurance company in their answer, stated that the officer, Palmer, gave bond in the sum of $1,000 on August 25, 1950, and that on July 13, 1953, Palmer in his official capacity, signed an affidavit charging Neff with carrying a concealed weapon that Neff was arrested and that upon trial he was found not guilty.

It was brought out at the trial that Neff was engaged in making trucking trips for Donald Moore, and carried up to $2,000 in money and he had a revolver in his truck for protection of his person and property.

On the date of his arrest Neff was ready to make a trucking trip to Florida and had the pistol in his car, it was testified and followed.

The request was made in a five-point program laid before the legislators in a special message calling for "a renewed and reinvigorated attack on our health problems."

Eisenhower called for action in five general areas, providing for:

1. A 28 per cent increase in federal funds for basic medical research to a total of $126,525,000.
2. A new program of grants, $250 million over the next five years, search and training facilities.

This money would go to state, local and private institutions with a provision that they must supply "at least equal amounts in matching funds."

3. "Further steps to meet health personnel shortages. No specific amount was recommended here, but Eisenhower said the number of physicians being graduated from medical schools is barely keeping pace with the increase in population, and that the number of dentists and nurses is diminishing relative to population."

4. ACTION to strengthen certain other basic health services through out the nation.

His fifth point was that of meeting costs of medical care and embracing his plan possibly to submit later legislation for pooling of insurance risks.

Under this item, the President also recommended that Congress authorize a separate program through which the federal government would match funds expended by the states and localities for medical care for the indigent aged, the blind, the permanently and totally disabled, and dependent children.

In noting progress already made in the medical research field, Eisenhower singled out "the widespread use of the Salk poliomyelitis vaccine within the last year."

He said it "has proved highly effective in reducing the threat of paralytic poliomyelitis to many of our children."

Eisenhower noted that a current program providing federal funds to assist the states in providing free Salk vaccine for many children and expectant mothers will expire Feb. 15. He recommended an extension to June 30, 1957, and appropriation of $30 million to complete the program.

The stepped-up research program which he recommended would provide:

For cancer: $32,437,000; heart diseases, $13,345,000; neurology and blindness $12,196,000; infectious and parasitic diseases $9,799,000; dental disorders $2,971,000; and $11,922,000 for general research programs of the national institutes of health.

On the point of health personnel, Eisenhower renewed the call, sounded in his health message last year, for enactment of legislation to provide for (A) a five-year program of grants for training practical nurses (B) traineeships for graduate nurses, and (C) authority to establish traineeships in other public health specialties.

As for strengthening basic health services, the President called for, among other things:

Sickness surveys — he said the last comprehensive survey of illness in the United States was made 20 years ago, and that since then American medicine has experienced the most rapid and dramatic changes in its history. He recommended that Congress authorize public health service to conduct new surveys.

Expansion of medical care facilities — extension for two more years of the federal-state program to aid in construction of hospitals and other medical care facilities was recommended. The budget calls for a 19 million dollar increase in funds to accomplish that.

Mental illness — The President renewed his call for authorization of a new program of mental health project grants aimed at improving the quality of care in mental institutions, as well as putting administration of such institutions on a higher level.

Water and air pollution — Eisenhower recommended strengthening of the water pollution act expiring on June 30. He also appealed for

Council Meeting Was Short One

Next Session To Be Held On Feb. 1

At a short session of city council Wednesday night, a resolution was placed on its first reading, authorizing the Dayton Power & Light Co. to proceed with the installation of 80 new traffic lights of 4,000 lumens, on the main thoroughfares of the city, and increase the 235 traffic lights in the residential area from 1,000 lumens to 2,500 lumens.

Inasmuch as two councilmen were absent—Ben Norris and John Weade, the resolution could not be passed at the meeting. It was scheduled to be taken up Wednesday night, Feb. 1, for further action, so the DP&L can proceed with the installations as soon as possible.

At the same session, Attorney Rollo Marchant appeared and asked that the plat of the Willis Subdivision, containing more than 80 lots and the 75-acre reservoir of the Ohio Water Service Co., be accepted by council.

The lots are located on the tract fronting on the Dayton Road, and extending back to near the reservoir. The lots occupy 37.38 acres.

An ordinance approving the plat was placed on its first reading, but could not be passed due to absence of the two councilmen.

It also, is to be taken up at the next meeting, held Feb. 1 instead of Feb. 8, at the request of President Ronald Cornwell.

Leo Cox again appeared before Council with a request for permission for a street carnival sponsored by the VFW to use South Main Street, between the railroads, one week next summer, but was informed that objections had been made and council was not ready to give him an answer.

Council went into executive session immediately after adjourning the regular session.

New Holland Pupils Tested

Action To Determine Diphtheria Immunity

Another step was taken Thursday to protect New Holland grade school students from diphtheria. This is the second safeguard for the Pickaway County youngsters to be used by county and state health department officials.

The pupils are now being given a test to see if they are immune to diphtheria. They have already been checked to see if they had diphtheria.

An estimated 200 out of 325 youngsters in the school received "Schick test" injections Thursday, with the permission of their parents, according to Supt. Kenneth Craig.

In five days, the children will be checked for immunity to diphtheria. The toxin takes that long to work, it was explained.

A clean bill of health was given New Holland pupils in December following a test to determine the presence of diphtheria among students then.

Now a second test is being run this time the "Schick" or "skin" test. This test is not now ordinarily given as part of the routine immunization program, Craig said.

He stressed that it is used and has been used for a number of years as part of standard medical procedure. But for mass testing another method — already used at the New Holland School — has been considered sufficient.

NOW THE county and state health departments are doing a double-check just to be sure.

The diphtheria - indicator test already given at the Pickaway County School involved throat tests of all pupils, teachers, cafeteria workers and other helpers at the school. That involved taking specimens from the throat of an individual and "developing" the culture to see if diphtheria bacteria were present.

The Schick test, according to State Health Department representative Dr. Malcolm Robbins, involves scratching the surface of the skin on the forearm and applying a very weak solution of diphtheria toxin, the material left by actual diphtheria bacteria.

If the person is immune to diphtheria — if his body has the materials to fight the disease off — no reaction will result.

If he is susceptible to the disease a red spot will appear on his arm, actually an irritation caused by the toxin. Although the toxin itself won't injure the patient — since it contains no bacteria — the reaction indicates that he is susceptible to the disease and should be protected by diphtheria shots, according to the doctor.

ADMINISTERING the tests were Dr. Robbins, medical assistant James Papai of the Ohio Health Dept. and Mrs. Helen Pickens, Pickaway County Senior Health Nurse.

Fears of New Holland residents that a diphtheria epidemic might break out in the schools there were aroused and eventually calmed after the death from diphtheria of al Hospital, was released Wednesday.

Mrs. Harold Driscoll of Sabina, who underwent surgery in Memorial Hospital, was released Wednesday.

Cub Pack 32 To Reorganize

Cub Scout Pack 32, sponsored by the Central School PTA, will get a new lease on life Friday if all goes according to plan.

The plan calls for a reorganization meeting at the school at 7:30 P. M. Friday.

Members and prospective members—Central School boys from 8 to 10 years old — are asked to attend, along with their parents.

For the benefit of prospective new members and their parents, the aims of Cubbing will be outlined by Robert Poppen, field Scout executive for the county.

Marvin Thornburg, district Scout commissioner, will be in charge of the meeting.

Business of the meeting will include setting up a new pack committee, appointing den mothers and den dads and dividing the boys into den groups.

A feature of the program will be a movie illustrating how the Cub program ties in with the family.

Youths Are Held

Scene led to the arrest of the trio. Hill said the number was the same as the tag on a car owned by Harris.

AN OFFICER who went to the Harris home stopped a car that drove past and found Harris, Thornton and Thomas. They had three guns with them, a .38 revolver, a .22 automatic and a .22 revolver.

Coroner Richard H. Schaefer said Stolzenbach had been shot under the left arm with either a .22 or .25 caliber revolver.

Davison said the tavern keeper apparently was shot while he stood with his hands raised in front of his cash register. He apparently staggered into the kitchen, collapsed and died.

Hill quoted Harris as saying, "I saw him (Stolzenbach) duck down and I thought he was going for a gun. I fired—not at him but over his head, to keep him down. Just as I fired the guy raised up."

Davison said the youths left without taking any money. They told authorities they didn't know Stolzenbach had died until they were arrested.

Lawrence Neil Funk, 10, on Nov. 23.

Officials at University Hospital in Columbus named diphtheria as the cause of death on Dec. 7, after an autopsy.

The diphtheria - indicator test was run at the New Holland School following that report and the results indicated no previously undetected diphtheria.

Council Meeting Was Short One

Next Session To Be Held On Feb. 1

At a short session of city council Wednesday night, a resolution was placed on its first reading, authorizing the Dayton Power & Light Co. to proceed with the installation of 80 new traffic lights of 4,000 lumens, on the main thoroughfares of the city, and increase the 235 traffic lights in the residential area from 1,000 lumens to 2,500 lumens.

Inasmuch as two councilmen were absent—Ben Norris and John Weade, the resolution could not be passed at the meeting. It was scheduled to be taken up Wednesday night, Feb. 1, for further action, so the DP&L can proceed with the installations as soon as possible.

At the same session, Attorney Rollo Marchant appeared and asked that the plan of the Willis Sub-division, containing more than 80 lots and the 75-acre reservoir of the Ohio Water Service Co., be accepted by council.

The lots are located on the tract fronting on the Dayton Road, and extending back to near the reservoir. The lots occupy 37.38 acres.

An ordinance approving the plan was placed on its first reading, but could not be passed due to absence of the two councilmen.

It also, is to be taken up at the next meeting, held Feb. 1 instead of Feb. 8, at the request of President Ronald Cornwell.

Leo Cox again appeared before Council with a request for permission for a street carnival sponsored by the VFW to use South Main Street, between the railroads, one week next summer, but was informed that objections had been made and council was not ready to give him an answer.

Council went into executive session immediately after adjourning the regular session.

New Holland Pupils Tested

Action To Determine
Diphtheria Immunity

Another step was taken Thursday to protect New Holland grade school students from diphtheria. This is the second safeguard for the Pickaway County youngsters to be used by county and state health department officials.

The pupils are now being given a test to see if they are immune to diphtheria. They have already been checked to see if they had diphtheria.

An estimated 200 out of 325 youngsters in the school received "Schick test" injections Thursday, with the permission of their parents, according to Supt. Kenneth Craig.

In five days, the children will be checked for immunity to diphtheria. The toxin takes that long to work, it was explained.

A clean bill of health was given New Holland pupils in December following a test to determine the presence of diphtheria among students.

Now a second test is being run this time the "Schick" or "skin" test. This test is not now ordinarily given as part of the routine immunization program, Craig said.

He stressed that it is used and has been used for a number of years as part of standard medical procedure. But for mass testing another method — already used at the New Holland School — has been considered sufficient.

NOW THE county and state health departments are doing a double-check just to be sure.

The diphtheria - indicator test already given at the Pickaway County School involved throat tests of all pupils, teachers, cafeteria workers and other helpers at the school. That involved taking specimens from the throat of an individual and "developing" the culture to see if diphtheria bacteria were present.

The Schick test, according to State Health Department representative Dr. Malcolm Robbins, involves scratching the surface of the skin on the forearm and applying a very weak solution of diphtheria toxin. The material left by actual diphtheria bacteria.

If the person is immune to diphtheria — if his body has the materials to fight the disease off — no reaction will result.

If he is susceptible to the disease a red spot will appear on his arm, actually an irritation caused by the toxin. Although the toxin itself won't injure the patient — since it contains no bacteria — the reaction indicates that he is susceptible to the disease and should be protected by diphtheria shots, according to the doctor.

ADMINISTERING the tests were Dr. Robbins, medical assistant James Papai of the Ohio Health Dept. and Mrs. Helen Pickens, Pickaway County Senior Health Nurse.

Fears of New Holland residents that a diphtheria epidemic might break out in the schools there were aroused and eventually calmed after the death from diphtheria of al Hospital, was released Wednesday.

Mrs. Harold Driscoll of Sabina, who underwent surgery in Memorial Hospital, was released Wednesday.

Cub Pack 32 To Reorganize

Cub Scout Pack 32, sponsored by the Central School PTA, will get a new lease on life Friday if all goes according to plan.

The plan calls for a reorganization meeting at the school at 7:30 P. M. Friday.

Members and prospective members—Central School boys from 8 to 10 years old — are asked to attend, along with their parents.

For the benefit of prospective new members and their parents, the aims of Cubbing will be outlined by Robert Poppen, field Scout executive for the county.

Marvin Thornburg, district Scout commissioner, will be in charge of the meeting.

Business of the meeting will include setting up a new pack committee, appointing den mothers and den dads and dividing the boys into den groups.

A feature of the program will be a movie illustrating how the Cub program ties in with the family.

Youths Are Held

scene led to the arrest of the trio. Hill said the number was the same as the tag on a car owned by Harris.

AN OFFICER who went to the Harris home stopped a car that drove past and found Harris, Thornton and Thomas. They had three guns with them, a .38 revolver, a .22 automatic and a .22 revolver.

Coroner Richard H. Schaefer said Stolzenbach had been shot under the left arm with either a .22 or .25 caliber revolver.

Davison said the tavern keeper apparently was shot while he stood with his hands raised in front of his cash register. He apparently staggered into the kitchen, collapsed and died.

Hill quoted Harris as saying, "I saw him (Stolzenbach) duck down and I thought he was going for a gun. I fired — not at him but over his head, to keep him down. Just as I fired the guy raised up."

Davison said the youths left without taking any money. They told authorities they didn't know Stolzenbach had died until they were arrested.

Lawrence Neil Funk, 10, on Nov. 23.

Officials at University Hospital in Columbus named diphtheria as the cause of death on Dec. 7, after an autopsy.

The diphtheria - indicator test was run at the New Holland School following that report and the results indicated no previously undetected diphtheria.

Illegal Drug Traffic Getting More Attention

Here in Fayette County there has been far less cause, apparently, for any official attention to the wide-spread illicit traffic in drugs, than in larger and more congested areas.

For that reason comparatively few people here, and probably in most other rural localities, recognize that a great proportion of criminal activities, can be traced directly to the drug habit.

Last year the Ohio General Assembly acting on information supplied by Atty. Gen. C. Wm. O'Neill, passed some of the toughest laws in the nation for controlling illegal trafficking in narcotics.

Quite a group of interested Washington C. H. and Fayette County people attended various meetings, called by O'Neill, to get organization work started in the state to help obtain strengthened laws and give other assistance to a program for better controlling the illegal narcotic situation.

Similar measures have been taken, or are being contemplated, in other states. The drug "pusher" is everywhere recognized as the No. 1 enemy of public health and welfare.

A U. S. Senate subcommittee on narcotics, headed by Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex), has just completed an intensive study of how smuggled drugs are ruining the lives of thousands of Americans and boosting crime rates throughout the country. The subcommittee finds that America's 60,000 addicts — more than all other Western nations combined—commit about half the criminal acts recorded in larger cities and almost one-fourth the crimes in the United States. Hence, the bulk narcotics streaming in every year from Red China, Turkey, Lebanon, and Mexico comprise the greatest single source of corruption in America.

Sen. Daniel believes Federal penalties for dope smugglers and peddlers should be stiffened considerably, especially for those who contribute to the moral and mental degradation of juveniles. He even suggests that those who deal illegally in heroin, "the most deadly of all narcotics," be put to death.

Most Americans, of course, will grant the punishment in drug cases should be swift and strong, but they would at least want some evidence that the threat of the electric chair or the gas chamber actually deters drug peddlers. However, there is doubtless solid backing in the nation for Sen. Daniel's recommendation that Federal law enforcement agencies tracking narcotic dealers be given more men and better legal "weapons"—e.g., authority to tap telephone wires of known drug syndicates and to use such recorded evidence in court. Little or nothing, in fact, should stand in the way of state or federal officers in bringing to trial men and women who batten on drug addiction.

110 New Smiths A Day

NEW YORK (U)—Some things a columnist might never know if he didn't read his mail:

That there are more than 1,500,000 people named Smith in the United States, and the number increases by about 110 every day.

This doesn't include the Smyths, Smythes, Schmitts, Schmidts or Psmiths.

That if you pick up a handful of good soil you hold more living organisms in your fist than there are human beings in the entire world.

That American industry in the next ten years will spend $56½ billion on research and development, more than 1½ times the total expended since the birth of the nation.

That in 1941 only about a million American families owned two or more cars, but now 4½ million do. But do they fit in a 1941 garage?

That in autopsies performed on 193 cats killed in highway accidents not one was found to have consumed a wild bird. The stomach contents consisted mostly of mice, young rabbits and rats.

That perhaps the most crime-free community in the world is Karakelic, a Turkish village with a population of 450. In the last 99 years not one of its inhabitants has been arrested.

That you may not be able to teach an old dog new tricks, but Joseph W. Lippincott, a Philadelphia bird authority, found old crows learned to speak more readily than younger ones.

That the coffee percolator was invented by James H. Nason of Franklin, Mass., in 1865.

That 50 per cent of the nation's annual 1,200 to 1,400 poison deaths in the home occur among children 4 years of age or less.

That 60 per cent of the successful parlor games now popular in America were invented by amateurs. But please don't send your ideas for new games to me; all I play is "postoffice".

That physicians for Cesare Borgia, Italian Renaissance prince, treated him for malaria by sewing him up for two days inside the carcass of a disemboweled mule. He survived, too, and emerged feeling better. Or so the doctors claimed.

That it is safer to drive in the city than in the country. Of the 36,000 fatal car accidents in 1954, some 27,000 occurred in rural area, only 9,000 urban centers.

That woman's place is now in the business office as well as in the home. In 1890 men clerical workers outnumbered women eight to one, but today women held a three-to-one edge.

That a "whinniburger" is a hamburger made from horse meat.

That a survey made during a heat wave in Chicago showed stenographic errors increased 1,000 per cent when the office temperature rose from 78 to 96 degrees.

That a shirt-dressed man permits his shirt cuff to extend exactly one-half inch beyond his coat sleeve. Our motto: "Every day another lifelong problem solved."

That the half billion common colds caught in America each year cost $5 billion, an average of $10 a cold—in lost wages, lost production and medical expenses.

That some scientists believe the world's climate is getting warmer because of a gradual increase of carbon dioxide in the atmosphere.

Now, if everybody will just start breathing faster, maybe we can get rid of this cold wave.

Hospital Rules Same For All

When one is on his back, wondering what hit him, the other thought is also liable to occur to him that somehow he is, for a time, a prisoner. All the time I am in this hospital, looking out of a narrow window or gazing at the light yellow mustard walls which seem so unnecessarily characteristic of hospital walls, I cannot help but realize that a little oculousion can bring anyone down and when downed, we all have to submit to the same regime, the same rigid rules, the same everything.

Of course, I had it a little easier than I do because he has been trained all his life to obey, while I, poor me, want an explanation for each obedience.

But in the hospitals, obedience is ever present. Even drinking water is measured out; everything is calories. When I think of that cold half duck I ate only last week, life in the hospital is drear, indeed.

It used to be that appendicitis was the popular ailment; then they changed its name to appendectomy and people stopped having it. I don't recall any recent cases of a personal nature because most of my friends are stylish. They get what is the going rage. So these days, it's a coronary, ranging from mild through moderate to severe. I have tried to discover what gave me this mild one. I had a wonderful time a night before at a 70th birthday party that Toots Shor gave for Bugs Baer, a writer of cryptic witticisms. Toots Sher I do not identify because he has done so himself in loud and lucid terms that may not always be printable. It was a gay party but I left it early and to bed quite healthy and cheerful.

The only omen came from an Irish pal, John Brogan, who out of love for me dreamed that I had died and returned from the dead, which he announced to all, and some must have wondered why if the thing happened it did not stay that way. I threw salt over my left shoulder three times to make sure that the evil eye did not get me.

The next day, life moved as usual. I was not quarrelsome or cantankerous, only usual. It was a day of quiet reading and writing with only casual conversations with my dog, Joe, on the sad state of the human race.

The next morning, I awoke at 5:30 and woke up Joe in the process. "Joe," I said, "I seem to be in grave trouble. Actually, I am choking to death." So Joe and I went in to awaken mother because when anything goes wrong, it seems the smart thing to do. Get mother on the job and the thing will straighten out.

Well, in due course, I found myself being punctured and tapped and banded about. And so I had gone and done it and got me a mild coronary. Nobody can guarantee me anything and I am forbidden to move, but I am writing this with my own hand as a protest against obedience. I am not supposed to do anything, just lie here and sleep. How Ike could stand all that sleep, I cannot imagine. Maybe, he likes sleep. I have generally avoided it as much as possible because there is so much to do and you have to be awake to do it. However, now I fall asleep with the greatest of ease. Sleep is a cure.

I tried to read Thomas Carlyle because I thought he was never very stimulating, certainly not as stimulating as Grover Whalen's "Mr. New York." I tried Carlyle on Burns, two quiet gentlemen of another century, but

Diet and Health

Well-Balanced Diet For Lady-in-Waiting

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

It is always important to eat the right foods in the right amounts. But this becomes doubly important for the expectant mother.

You will seldom gain weight during the first three months of pregnancy. Thereafter, the monthly gain should not average more than three and one-half pounds.

Some doctors say even this is too much for some women, but let your own doctor decide for you. Meals must not be too large, but they must be nutritious.

Suggested Foods

As for the food you should and should not have, here are some suggestions. Make sure you get the following every day:

At least one-half cup of yellow and green vegetables. Frequently some of these should be eaten raw.

At least one serving of oranges, tomatoes or grapefruit. This means one medium-sized orange, half a grapefruit, one cup of citrus fruit juice.

One or more servings of potatoes.

At least one-half cup of other fruits and vegetables.

One or more eggs and at least a four-ounce serving of meat, poultry or fish.

One quart of milk. Some of this may be used in cooking. Cheese can be substituted for some of your milk requirements.

Three or more servings of enriched or whole grain bread or whole grain or restored cereal.

One to two tablespoons of butter or fortified margarine.

Enough fish and liver oils to supply from 400 to 800 International Units of Vitamin D.

To Be Avoided

You should avoid the following: Foods which may create gas such as sweet potatoes, cabbage and dried beans.

Foods which are digested slowly such as fat pork, frankfurters, bologna, rich gravies, pickles, mayonnaise and pie.

Too much food rich in sugar and starch such as candy, cake and pie.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

D. G.: What would cause my hips to ache and what would you advise for relief?

Answer: Pain in the hips may come from a variety of causes, such as infection, injury, or from some disorder affecting the circulation. Arthritis is a frequent cause.

It is advisable that you have a careful study made by your physician to determine the cause;

The Nation Today

James Marlow

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (U)—Trying to read a president's mind — an old Washington pastime — has become a capital hobby in President Eisenhower's case, even when he's specific, as he was in saying he hasn't decided on running again.

It becomes more of a game, and with less purpose, when he's ambiguous, as he was Wednesday on whether Chief Justice Earl Warren should run.

His statement will be interpreted as meaning (A) he closed the door on Warren as a presidential candidate, and (B) that he did no such thing.

Asked at his news conference if he thought it a bad thing for the chief justice to return to politics, he said the obvious: that in this kind of government there should be a separation of powers.

"We shouldn't get too great a confusion between politics and the Supreme Court," he said.

He cited his own example: "The second I was nominated by the Republican party, I resigned from the Army; but the day I left Europe (May 1952) I retired from the Army, and went without pay until nominated."

But Eisenhower did not retire from the Army until he began actively to campaign for the Republican nomination. If Warren began actively to campaign, he'd have to resign from the court too. Public opinion would compel that.

What Eisenhower didn't say was whether he thought it all right for Warren, while still on the court, to let Warren-for-president clubs be formed, let his name be entered in presidential primaries, and not contradict statements by his friends that he'd accept the nomination if the party wanted him.

That's what Eisenhower did while still in the Army and before he returned to this country in mid-1952 to campaign.

So, taking Eisenhower's statement of Wednesday at face value, it might seem he was simply saying that if the candidacy of Warren reached such a point that he'd have to make speeches, he should get off the court.

Warren himself has said he wants no part of the presidency. He war far more emphatic about it than either Eisenhower or Adlai E. Stevenson in the days when they are saying they had no presidential ambitions.

What Can He Do With Streetcar?

DALLAS (U)—Bobby Sliger, 20-year-old bank messenger, is now the owner of a 48-foot streetcar but has no place to put it. He won it in a drawing held by the Dallas Transit Co. which gave the streetcar away when it converted to buses this month.

Sliger has 10 days to move the trolley off the transit company's property. The transit firm said it would cost at least $100 to move the aged streetcar which is worth about $100.

Ex-Ironton Aide Handed Indictment

IRONTON (U)—Franklin Glenn, 43, former clerk of the Ironton Municipal Court, has been indicted for embezzlement and diversion of public funds.

Glenn resigned Oct. 15, 1945, during a check of his office accounts by two examiners from the State Bureau of Inspection.

A state auditor's report last Dec. 8 showed a shortage of $12,404 in Glenn's accounts as court clerk dating back to Dec. 16, 1952.

Illegal Drug Traffic Getting More Attention

Here in Fayette County there has been far less cause, apparently, for any official attention to the wide-spread illicit traffic in drugs, than in larger and more congested areas.

For that reason comparatively few people here, and probably in most other rural localities, recognize that a great proportion of criminal activities, can be traced directly to the drug habit.

Last year the Ohio General Assembly, acting on information supplied by Atty. Gen. C. Wm. O'Neill, passed some of the toughest laws in the nation for controlling illegal trafficking in narcotics.

Quite a group of interested Washington C. H. and Fayette County people attended various meetings, called by O'Neill, to get organization work started in the state to help obtain strengthened laws and give other assistance to a program for better controlling the illegal narcotic situation.

Similar measures have been taken, or are being contemplated, in other states. The drug "pusher" is everywhere recognized as the No. 1 enemy of public health and welfare.

A U. S. Senate subcommittee on narcotics, headed by Sen. Price Daniel (D-Tex), has just completed an intensive study of how smuggled drugs are ruining the lives of thousands of Americans and boosting crime rates throughout the country. The subcommittee finds that America's 60,000 addicts — more than all other Western nations combined — commit about half the criminal acts recorded in larger cities and almost one-fourth the crimes in the United States. Sen. Daniel believes Federal penalties for dope smugglers and peddlers should be stiffened considerably, especially for those who contribute to the moral and mental degradation of juveniles. He even suggests that those who deal illegally in heroin, "the most deadly of all narcotics," be put to death.

Most Americans, of course, will grant the punishment in drug cases should be swift and strong, but they would at least want some evidence that the threat of the electric chair or the gas chamber actually deters drug peddlers. However, there is doubtless solid backing in the nation for Sen. Daniel's recommendation that Federal law enforcement agencies tracking narcotic dealers be given more men and better legal "weapons"—e.g., authority to tap telephone wires of known drug syndicates and to use such recorded evidence in court. Little or nothing, in fact, should stand in the way of state or federal officers in bringing to trial men and women who batten on drug addiction.

Well-Balanced Diet For Lady-in-Waiting

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

It is always important to eat the right foods in the right amounts. But this becomes doubly important for the expectant mother.

You will seldom gain weight during the first three months of pregnancy. Thereafter, the monthly gain should not average more than three and one-half pounds.

Some doctors say even this is too much for some women, but let your own doctor decide for you. Meals must not be too large, but they must be nutritious.

Suggested Foods

As for the food you should and should not have, here are some suggestions. Make sure you get the following every day:

At least one-half cup of yellow and green vegetables. Frequently some of these should be eaten raw.

At least one serving of oranges, tomatoes or grapefruit. This means one medium-sized orange, half a grapefruit, one cup of citrus fruit juice.

One or more servings of potatoes.

At least one-half cup of other

fruits and vegetables.

One or more eggs and at least a four-ounce serving of meat, poultry or fish.

One quart of milk. Some of this may be used in cooking. Cheese can be substituted for some of your milk requirements.

Three or more servings of enriched or whole grain bread or whole grain or restored cereal.

One to two tablespoons of butter or fortified margarine.

Enough fish and liver oils to supply from 400 to 800 International Units of Vitamin D.

To Be Avoided

You should avoid the following: Foods which may create gas such as sweet potatoes, cabbage and dried beans.

Foods which are digested slowly such as fat pork, frankfurters, bologna, rich gravies, pickles, mayonnaise and pie.

Too much food rich in sugar and starch such as candy, cake and pie.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

D. G.: What would cause my hips to ache and what would you advise for relief?

Answer: Pain in the hips may come from a variety of causes, such as infection, injury, or from some disorder affecting the circulation. Arthritis is a frequent cause.

It is advisable that you have a careful study made by your physician to determine the cause;

The Answer Quick

1. Who painted the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel in the Vatican?
2. What is a banquette?
3. What is a Martini?
4. What is a biscuit tortoni?
5. Why, in ancient Rome, would the nearest kinsman inhale the last breath of the departing?

Your Future

Business and personal affairs should prosper exceedingly in the months ahead. Make the most of these favorable influences. Today's child may be a favorite with everyone, being of a sunny, sympathetic nature.

Watch Your Language

DECOMPOSE — (DE-kom-poz) — verb transitive and intransitive; to separate or resolve into constituent parts or elements, or into simpler compounds; to bring to or undergo disintegration; decay; rot. Synonym—Decay, Origin: French—Decomposer.

How'd You Make Out

1. Michelangelo
2. A narrow window seat; a raised wall along the inside of a parapet or trench for gunners; or a raised shelf at the back of a buffet.
3. One of the hypothetical inhabitants of the planet Mars.
4. An ice cream dessert.
5. To receive the spirit.

The Nation Today

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Trying to read a president's mind — an old Washington pastime — has become a capital hobby in President Eisenhower's case, even when he's specific, as he was in saying he hasn't decided on running again.

It becomes more of a game, and with less purpose, when he's ambiguous, as he was Wednesday on whether Chief Justice Earl Warren should run.

His statement will be interpreted as meaning (A) he closed the door on Warren as a presidential candidate, and (B) that he did no such thing.

Asked at his news conference if he thought it a bad thing for the chief justice to return to politics, he said the obvious: that in this kind of government there should be a separation of powers.

"We shouldn't get too great a confusion between politics and the Supreme Court," he said.

He cited his own example: "The second I was nominated by the Republican party, I resigned from the Army; but the day I left Europe (May 1952) I retired from the Army, and went without pay until nominated."

But Eisenhower did not retire from the Army until he began actively to campaign for the Republican nomination. If Warren began actively to campaign, he'd have to resign from the court too. Public opinion would compel that.

What Eisenhower didn't say was whether he thought it all right for Warren, while still on the court, to let Warren-for-president clubs be formed, let his name be entered in presidential primaries, and not contradict statements by his friends that he'd accept the nomination if the party wanted him.

That's what Eisenhower did while still in the Army and before he returned to this country in mid-1952 to campaign.

So, taking Eisenhower's statement of Wednesday at face value, it might seem he was simply saying that if the candidacy of Warren reached such a point that he'd have to make speeches, he should get off the court.

Warren himself has said he wants no part of the presidency. He war far more emphatic about it than either Eisenhower or Adlai E. Stevenson in the days when they are saying they had no presidential ambitions.

What Can He Do With Streetcar?

DALLAS (AP)—Bobby Sliger, 20-year-old bank messenger, is now the owner of a 48-foot streetcar but has no place to put it. He won it in a drawing held by the Dallas Transit Co. which gave the streetcar away when it converted to buses this month.

Sliger has 10 days to move the trolley off the transit company's property. The transit firm said it would cost at least $100 to move the aged streetcar which is worth about $100.

Ex-Ironton Aide Handed Indictment

IRONTON (AP)—Franklin Glenn, 43, former clerk of the Ironton Municipal Court, has been indicted for embezzlement and diversion of public funds.

Glenn resigned Oct. 15, 1955, during a check of his office accounts by two examiners from the State Bureau of Inspection.

A state auditor's report last Dec. 8 showed a shortage of $12,404 in Glenn's accounts as court clerk dating back to Dec. 16, 1952.

Line-Holding Tactics Seen For Nation

Businessmen Ready
For 1k's Prediction
Of Turndown Ahead

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — The nation appears getting ready for a switch to "hold that line" tactics on the business front.

The momentum of good times is carrying over into the start of the new year. But earlier fears of a threat of inflation have been stilled of late by the turndown in auto production and home building — the two fields in which dangers of a runaway boom were once believed concentrated.

And so businessmen were all set for President Eisenhower's report today on the state of the nation's economy to forecast a 400 billion dollar year but a slowdown from 1955's rapid rate of gain.

In the first nine months of 1955 the nation's dollar total of production of goods and services averaged out at a 320-billion annual rate. But a roaring fourth quarter probably brought that gross national product to kissing distance of the 400 billion mark.

Business economists think the first three to five months of this year will see that level maintained.

Then comes the testing time. The "hold that line" policies now shaping up are seen in the assertions of administration leaders that a sharp turndown in business would be considered a reason to reduce taxes. Increase government spending is proposed on several fronts.

House building credit rules have already been relaxed to keep home building from taking too much of a tumble. Federal reserve executives have pledged that money and credit supplies will be increased should any pronounced business downturn warrant it.

Auto output cuts have led to lay-offs of several thousand men. This is blamed on the stubborn stickiness of new cars in dealer's show rooms. But although auto makers have let up in their pressure for more steel, the mills report that demand from other sources still is higher than they can supply quickly. Steel output stays near capacity levels.

The downturn in farm income has worried many economists. It is now getting the full scale attention of congressmen — which may or may not be a good thing.

And now the all-powerful consumer is beginning to worry businessmen.

Retail sales continue high, but have started to level off. Bankers report a switch at year end from free spending to more saving.

The trend may be reversing. Bankers predict that consumers will spend less of their money and save more this year and whittle down some of their record debt.

If so, the cutback in spending will be felt in other lines besides auto making and home building.

Ladies Attend Presbyterian In Columbus

Members of the Women's Association of Presbyterian Churches in this community who attended the mid-winter Presbyterian at Central Presbyterian Church, in Columbus, Wednesday, were well rewarded for their trip, in spite of the inclement weather.

13-Point Plan Is Recommended For Solving Teacher Shortage

A 13-point plan was recommended in its report by the committee that was assigned to study the question "How Can We Get Enough Good Teachers—and Keep Them?" at the White House Conference on Education held in Washington D. C., last November.

At the start of its report, the committee said: "The American public must be re-awakened to the fact that teachers work with our most precious resource—our children."

The committee gave its definition of a good teacher and expressed the belief that "the use of teacher aids requires further study and experimentation before they can be recommended as a means of meeting the teacher shortage."

The report was one of six made by study groups at the conference. Edwin Buck, a Fayette County farmer who was one of the Ohio representatives at the conference, was made available for publication the full text of all the reports.

The fourth of the series of six reports follows:

The American public must be re-awakened to the fact that teachers work with our most precious resource—our children.

A good educational system requires good teachers and enough of them in each locality to meet its needs.

We believe that, to increase the supply of good teachers from any source, three basic considerations must be kept in mind:

1. The prestige and status of teaching must be comparable to other professions within the community.

2. The salary structure must be high enough and flexible enough to compete effectively with other fields bidding for quality manpower.

3. The teacher's job must be so defined as to challenge and attract the interest of talented people.

A good teacher is one who has an active interest in children and youth; has a broad educational background; is professionally qualified and competent; possesses good physical and mental health; has a good moral character; manifests a desire for self-improvement; can work constructively with other professional workers, parents, and the community; and is proud of teaching as a profession.

"Enough" good teachers implies enough teachers in the classrooms to develop each child to his full potential, taking into account the educational service to be rendered in that particular classroom.

We can increase the supply of good teachers through several avenues. One is by the recruitment of high school youth, stimulated by the following: The example of dedicated and inspired teachers, the formation of Future Teacher Clubs, the participation in Career Days and other guidance activities focused upon teaching. Also, the extension of public and private scholarships and other grants to qualified teacher candidates, the enlistment of all community agencies in the recruitment of high school teacher candidates, and the evidence of teachers expressing enthusiastic pride in their profession.

Another avenue of approach is improving the programs of teacher preparation. This would include strong programs of general education and a professional program keyed to professional problems and responsibilities as well as motivation for continued study after appointment. Institutions of higher education should accept greater responsibility for recruitment and preparation of teachers. There should be a review and evaluation of teacher training programs for the purpose of making them as challenging, effective, and attractive as possible. We have found it amply evident that lowering standards of teacher preparation and certification will not assist teacher recruitment. It is important, also, to staff teacher training institutions with competent, well-qualified professional staff, providing them with adequate funds.

Recruitment of qualified former teachers would be facilitated by the use of State surveys of potential teachers; by the provision of retraining programs, which are practical and dynamic; by making available scholarships for in-service and pre-service training programs; by changes in restrictive laws governing tenure and employment. Improve working conditions and salaries, relaxation of compulsory retirement provisions, part-time employment, and the establishment of teacher reciprocity agreements between States were also favored.

Among those lacking teacher training, carefully selected college graduates may be another source of additional teachers after completing professional training specially geared to their needs. Experiments are being conducted in this field and it is recommended that no final decision be reached until much more information is available as to the more advantageous type of program.

There may yet be some other means of increasing the supply of good teachers such as the development of various benefit plans comparable to those in industry. A continuing need for community appreciation and recognition of our teachers was strongly emphasized.

In the choice of candidates for teacher preparation and placement, race, religious affiliation, or national origin should not be considered.

It was recommended that we urge the U. S. Office of Education to make a study of certification standards and establish a basis for reciprocity in certification between States.

We believe that the most effective use of teacher talents will require more rather than fewer persons.

We recommend relief of teachers from non-professional duties and the use of consultants and supervisory services. It is further recommended that there be consolidation of attendance units to provide good age grouping, good buildings, and good school environment; the provision and more effective use of good equipment, library service, and teaching materials, including visual aids, sound films, and television.

We feel that, at this time, the use of teacher aids requires further study and experimentation before it can be recommended as a means of meeting the shortage of teachers.

If teachers are to be retained, then every school system is obligated to provide personnel services which have been recognized as necessary for an individual to achieve job satisfaction. These are:

1. Selection of teachers capable of providing educational leadership to children, parents, and the community.

2. Good personnel relationships.

3. More attractive living and working conditions.

4. A continuous orientation program that will enable the teacher to become a functioning member of the community and the teaching staff.

5. A program of communications adequate to keep the teacher informed and able to participate in the operation of the school.

6. A cooperative evaluation program to assist teacher to identify teachers' strengths and weaknesses.

7. A salary schedule that will enable the classroom teacher to secure rewards commensurate with those of other professions.

8. An in-service training program that will enable teachers to develop to the maximum of their potential.

9. The strengthening of policies related to tenure, retirement, group insurance, sabbatical and emergency leaves, released time for professional meetings and courses.

10. The encouragement of parental emphasis on good conduct on the part of their children.

11. The adequate personal and professional guidance to be provided for the beginning teachers.

12. The providing of service awards in recognition of outstanding teaching accomplishment.

13. The further studies or research on merit increases for teachers.

provement bonds being paid off at specified and regular intervals by property owners who petitioned for such special improvements in their immediate localities, the total indebtedness for Washington C. H. is $147,800, a figure far below most other cities of its size.

COUNTY officials also are pleased with the progress of the county's financing program, and are officially reported to have reason to be, according to the figures.

There are no county operation bonds outstanding, the only debt for which Fayette County is responsible are the bonds issued for the Fayette County Memorial Hospital for the original hospital issue and the hospital addition constructed two or three years ago. These bonds show an outstanding balance of $229,000, after last year's payment of $33,000.

The total original debt of the hospital construction and new addition improvements was close to half a million dollars, which has been regularly reduced by bond payments to less than half the original figures, resulting in a reduction of these special levies.

School bonds are handled in a different way; such bonds issued by different villages and townships are not counted as a part of the county debt for which the county is responsible but for which only property owners of the locality, for such improvements, have to pay taxes.

This puts both city and county in an excellent classification so far as debts are concerned. Most of our neighboring cities and counties do not show up as well in the general picture.

The bonded debt of Ohio's largest two cities, Cleveland and Cincinnati, accounts for almost one-half of the total city debt of the state. Cleveland reported $206,203,500 in bonded debt and Cincinnati, $123,550,305. Among the larger cities,

Canton shows the smallest debt, $3,711,994.

Mansfield with $1,818,300; Zanesville with $1,260,354, and East Cleveland with $248,500 were among the larger cities and considered to have relatively low bonded debt for their size.

in an excellent classification so far as debts are concerned. Most of our neighboring cities and counties do not show up as well in the general picture.

The bonded debt of Ohio's largest two cities, Cleveland and Cincinnati, accounts for almost one-half of the total city debt of the state. Cleveland reported $206,203,500 in bonded debt and Cincinnati, $123,550,305. Among the larger cities,

Canton shows the smallest debt, $3,711,994.

Mansfield with $1,818,300; Zanesville with $1,260,354, and East Cleveland with $248,500 were among the larger cities and considered to have relatively low bonded debt for their size.

$9.10 Daily Is Cost Of Care at Mt. Logan

Six Fayette Countians spent a total of 512 "patient days" in Mt. Logan sanatorium during the last three months of 1955, at a total cost of $4,658.33.

That figure is a fraction of a cent less than $9.10 a day for each patient — including room, board, medical care and a share of the administrative and other costs of the sanatorium.

All of that $9.10 will not be paid by the county, either. About $1.50 of the cost of each patient day was borne by the state, through Aid to the Aged payments and direct aid.

Altogether, the state paid $768.75 toward Fayette County's share of the bill. Of that amount, $180 was Aid to the Aged paid for a single patient and the remainder—$588.75—was aid from the state paid through the county.

Fayette is one of six counties which send patients to the sanatorium. The others, and the amounts they paid on the last three months of 1955, are Highland County (730 patient days) ($6,641.76); Jackson (818) $7,442.41; Pike (539) $4,903.98; Ross (1400) $12,737.62 and Scioto (2465) $22,427.31.

All those amounts include the amounts paid by the state through the counties and the amounts coming from Aid to the Aged and other funds through individual patients, as well as the money paid by county governments.

During the three-month period, the sanatorium's expenses were $69,142.83, bringing the total for 1955 to $311,150.64.

INCOME FOR the year was $300,314.80. The difference was more than made up for by a $42,929.00 balance from the previous year. On Jan. 1 of this year, the balance was $32,093.16.

Of the 1955 income, the largest share ($194,062.12) came from the six counties.

State aid paid through the counties amounted to $39,550, which the state matched with an equal amount paid direct to the sanatorium.

The other major source of income for the year was money which the sanatorium carries on its books as amounts received from patients, though in most cases the money is paid the patients by such state agencies as the division of Aid to the Aged and the Industrial Commission (workmen's compensation.)

The outpatient clinic receipts brought in $3,379 and donations amounted to $64.27. All other items amounted to $1798.72.

Major expenses were for administration ($10,144.78), meals ($86,935.96), plant maintenance ($55,883.33), doctors' and nurses' services ($78,700.42), X-ray and miscellaneous other expenses ($39,486) and a bank payment ($40,000.)

Newark Man Due To Hear Death Terms

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Earl Sullivan of Utica today still had an eight-day wait before he hears the fateful words which will start him on the path toward Ohio's electric chair.

A three-judge court yesterday found him guilty of first-degree murder in the slaying of his estranged wife, Valeria. He is 32 and so was she. The court failed to recommend mercy. That made the death sentence mandatory.

Judge Charles B. Holtzberry of Licking County said the death sentence will be delivered in court Friday, Feb. 3.

Sullivan pleaded innocent by reason of insanity. He shot his wife after they left a Halloween dance at the American Legion Hall in Utica and went to an alley to discuss their differences. A .22 caliber bullet hit Mrs. Sullivan in the head.

Dr. R. E. Bushong, superintendent of the Lima State Hospital, and Dr. Dwight Palmer, Columbus psychiatrist, testified they believe Sullivan was sane at the time of the shooting.

Sullivan's attorney, Miss Virginia Weiss, gave no indication whether the verdict will be appealed.

Soviet Offers UN Token Payment

GENEVA (AP)—Russia, seeking to resume membership in the United Nations World Health Organization (WHO) after seven years absence, has offered a token payment of 5 per cent of its unpaid debt.

Russia withdrew from WHO in 1949 because it alleged the organization had failed to fulfill its objectives. There is no constitutional provision for withdrawal so Russia theoretically owes $4 million for the years of its absence.

Your School Report Card

By W. A. SMITH
(City School Superintendent)

Students in Mrs. Rider's fourth grade at Rose Avenue School are becoming very much interested in current events.

In connection with their geography lessons on the Amazon region, Steven Oyer reported on the five missionaries who fell victims of the South American headhunters recently.

Admiral Byrd's Antarctic Expedition is coming in for its share of interest. Several pupils have made reports and submitted clippings about the expedition, including Charlotta Hilliard, Shirley Crawford, Shirley Bennington, Judy Hatfield, and Sharon Pendergraft. The clippings and reports become a part of their geography notebooks.

In connection with a recent unit on Eskimos, Linda Pierson brought clippings concerning the Eskimos at Thule, Greenland.

These fourth graders are also becoming proper food conscious. They have been studying about the Health notebooks, they are placing pictures of proper meals and collections of memory gems.

Included among these memory gems is the following:

The proper foods for me to eat,
Are simple ones and clean,
A pint of milk each day, I need,
And vegetables green.
The time to eat is during meals,
And never in between.

Man Indicted In Woman's Death

IRONTON (AP)—The grand jury here has indicted a Columbus man for manslaughter in the death of Myrtle Isabelle Layne, 27, whose nude body was found near Athalia Jan. 12.

Indicted was Harmon Potter, 21, an employee of the Columbus State Hospital, who told Sheriff Carl E. Rose he and Miss Layne had been drinking and he did not recall exactly what happened, but he said he believed he was responsible for her death. The coroner ruled she died of exposure.

Canton Election Squabble Appealed

COLUMBUS (AP)—Charles L. Babcock has appealed to the Ohio Supreme Court from refusal of the Stark County election board to accept a cashier's check for a receipt in last November's mayoral election in Canton.

Babcock, a Democrat, lost to Republican incumbent Carl F. Wise.

Demanding a recount, Babcock filed a cashier's check, but the board said statute required a deposit of cash or a certified check.

In an action brought directly in the appellate court, Babcock asked a writ of mandamus against election board members requiring them to accept his check. The court held for the board.

$12,000 Granted For Tollroad Study

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Board of Control has released an extra $12,000 for a study looking for ways to build a continuous 300-mile turnpike between Cincinnati and Conneaut.

The money released to State Highway Director S. O. Linzell calls for a two-way report. One would be on feasibility of a complete north-south turnpike; the other on such a turnpike with a section of public highway near the center.

More Rolling Adjustments Being Watched

Many Businesses Push On To New Peaks As Others Pause In Rush

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK —President Eisenhower indicates that business may be in for another of its "rolling adjustments." This phrase means that while some industries have spurred to the summit and are now rolling back for a breather, others will continue to roll forward to new peaks.

Many businessmen are out this week with predictions that their firms are still in the rolling forward stage. And others are saying that if they are due for a rolling adjustment backward that time is still some months away.

Steel mills have been setting new records for output so far this month, apparently unaffected by the cutback in auto production.

Republic Steel predicts it will continue on a capacity production schedule for at least six months more. Pittsburgh Steel says its capacity schedule should continue for at least nine months. Many in the industry expect Bethlehem Steel to make a similar cheerful prediction late today.

Copper fabricators note a pick-up in new orders recently, after a lull. Demand has returned to the high level of last September and October.

The National Machine Tool Builders Assn., reports in Cleveland that shipments of its members are expected to rise for the next few months. It says they now have unfilled orders which assure 7½ months of production at current schedules. This is the highest backlog in two years.

For the utilities the outlook, both short-term and long-term, still is very bright. Industrial activity through the cold months seems sure to be high enough to boost electric power consumption. And use of electricity is expected by homeowners this summer.

Business prospects look so good to the Commonwealth Edison Co. of Chicago that it has just raised its sights on what it'll need in the future. It now plans to spend 120 million dollars more in 1956 for expansion than it announced only a short time ago. This would bring the year's total to 600 million.

Credit demands are holding high, and showing no signs of abating. So the nation's banks, except perhaps in the farming areas, look for higher earnings, at least in the first half of the year.

This nation's trade with the rest of the world is also expected to rise to new record levels this year. The balance of payments group of the National Foreign Trade Council predicts that American companies will raise their exports of merchandise by 600 million dollars this year to a new record of 714,700,000,000. At the same time, the nation's importers are expected to bring in 400 million dollars more for a new record import total of $1,900,000,000.

Two of the rolling adjustments the President mentioned are the slowdown in auto sales and home building.

Some builders have predicted as much as a 10 per cent drop in new home starts. But Washington looks for a mild dip. And mortgage finance executives assure the Chicago meeting of the National Assn. of Home Builders that there will be plenty of mortgage credit available.

In the auto industry cutbacks of 12 to 15 per cent have been forecast. But the head of one of the smaller companies — James J. Nance, president of Studebaker-Packard Corp. — says auto output still could equal 1955's record. And General Motors has just closed its Motorama here after selling $1,300,000 worth of cars, a gain of $100,000 over last year. Attendance of 275,316 was 60,000 higher than a year ago.

If there's to be a rolling adjustment, it may not be too painful

Poet's Corner

NOSTALGIA

The sun is setting northward
On its journey to the Spring.
And the brooding skies
Are brightening overhead;
It will be a bit like Heaven
Just to hear the robins sing
When winter's somber dreariness
Has fled.

There'll be days of weary waiting
Until spring and winter meet,—
But each coming day will lessen
Winter's gloom;
And no one will be glad as I,
When lane and field and street
Are over-spread and canopied
With bloom.

Nature has its ordered cycles . . .
Each one set to time and place,—
But I wish the whole was blended
With the summer's warming grace,
Winter to my riant spirit
Is a dull and joyless thing;
And 'twill be a bit like Heaven
Just to hear the robins sing.

Father Of 3 Held In Lima Slaying

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (P)—William Swearingen, 27-year-old father of three, has been arrested for murder in the fatal shooting of a man during a robbery in Lima, Ohio, Dec. 10, 1954.

Sheriff M. J. Daffin and FBI agents arrested Swearingen last night at the Green Hills Community about 15 miles north of here.

A special FBI agent said Swearingen and two other men are charged in the robbery of the G&G Cafe in Lima. John Mooney, a customer, was shot to death during the holdup.

Two warrants against Swearingen were issued in Lima yesterday, one charging him with first degree murder in Mooney's death.

Special Prices On Most Meat

Some Good Buys In Fruit Market

(By The Associated Press)

By careful shopping, you should be able to find special prices on just about any kind of meat you want for this weekend.

A survey shows that some of the nation's food stores will feature chuck roast for economy and others will trim prices on prime ribs for sumptuous eating. There'll be specials, too, on sirloin steaks.

Loins of pork will be widely featured, but you can look for higher prices on pork next week because hog quotations have risen. In fact, one large chain is posting increases of six cents a pound this week on center cut pork chops.

Frying chickens will cost about the same as a week ago in most areas but will be higher elsewhere.

Egg prices are going down. Reductions of two to four cents a dozen on large grade A whites will be fairly common.

Among vegetables described as "moderately priced" are cauliflower, broccoli, cucumbers, peppers, beets, beans, squash, and carrots.

Good value in fruit is to be had in limes, oranges, grapefruit, tangerines (although they're a little higher), emperor grapes and apples.

Climbing Nude Seeking Divorce

ENID, Okla. (P)—Mrs. Ione Weir, who gained headlines four years ago as a tree-climbing nude sleepwalker, filed suit for divorce Wednesday.

She charged her husband, Wesley, with incompatibility and asked for support of their three children.

The blonde, attractive housewife attracted attention when she was found atop a tree in her yard with out even a nightgown. She said she was afflicted with sleep walking, mostly when the moon was full.

After the incident, her husband jokingly remarked that he would shackle her to the bedpost to head off any future nocturnal wanderings.

Man Wants Job Milking Snakes

DALLAS (P)—An Employment commission interviewer is going to have to change the pet-dodge she has been using when there weren't any jobs for persistent job hunters. "All we have left," she would say, "is a job milking rattlesnakes." She used it this week on a man who wouldn't give up. "That's fine," said the man, brightening. "Where is it and how much does it pay? Just what I have been doing in Florida."

Red Cross Meeting

others interested in the reorganization of the Red Cross here felt that the whole community would suffer seriously by the loss of the services.

He mentioned two that they consider vital: (1) The blood program through which blood is supplied to patients in Memorial Hospital and to Fayette Counties who are patients in other participating hospitals and (2) the variety of help it gives to men and women in the armed forces.

Miss Evans has said many times that loss of the Red Cross blood program would be serious. Mark commented that "as administrator of the hospital, Miss Evans knows better than anyone else what the Red Cross blood has meant. . . there are people alive today, who would be in their graves had the Red Cross blood not been available."

More Rolling Adjustments Being Watched

Many Businesses Push On To New Peaks As Others Pause In Rush

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — President Eisenhower indicates that business may be in for another of its "rolling adjustments." This phrase means that while some industries have spurred to the summit and are now rolling back for a breather, others will continue to roll forward to new peaks.

Many businessmen are out this week with predictions that their firms are still in the rolling forward stage. And others are saying that if they are due for a rolling adjustment backward that time is still some months away.

Steel mills have been setting new records for output so far this month, apparently unaffected by the cutback in auto production.

Republic Steel predicts it will continue on a capacity production schedule for at least six months more. Pittsburgh Steel says its capacity schedule should continue for at least nine months. Many in the industry expect Bethlehem Steel to make a similar cheerful prediction late today.

Copper fabricators note a pick-up in new orders recently, after a lull. Demand has returned to the high level of last September and October.

The National Machine Tool Builders Assn., reports in Cleveland that shipments of its members are expected to rise for the next few months. It says they now have unfilled orders which assure 7½ months of production at current schedules. This is the highest backlog in two years.

For the utilities the outlook, both short-term and long-term, still is very bright. Industrial activity through the cold months seems sure to be high enough to boost electric power consumption. And use of electricity is expected by homeowners this summer.

Business prospects look so good to the Commonwealth Edison Co. of Chicago that it has just raised its sights on what it'll need in the future. It now plans to spend 120 million dollars more in 1956 for expansion than it announced only a short time ago. This would bring the year's total to 600 million.

Credit demands are holding high, and showing no signs of abating. So the nation's banks, except perhaps in the farming areas, look for higher earnings, at least in the first half of the year.

This nation's trade with the rest of the world is also expected to rise to new record levels this year. The balance of payments group of the National Foreign Trade Council predicts that American companies will raise their exports of merchandise by 600 million dollars this year to a new record of 714,700,000,000. At the same time, the nation's importers are expected to bring in 400 million dollars more for a new record import total of $1,900,000,000.

Two of the rolling adjustments the President mentioned are the slowdown in auto sales and home building.

Some builders have predicted as much as a 10 per cent drop in new home starts. But Washington looks for a mild dip. And mortgage finance executives assure the Chicago meeting of the National Assn. of Home Builders that there will be plenty of mortgage credit available.

In the auto industry cutbacks of 12 to 15 per cent have been forecast. But the head of one of the smaller companies — James J. Nance, president of Studebaker-Packard Corp. — says auto output still could equal 1955's record. And General Motors has just closed its Motordama here after selling $1,200,000 worth of cars, a gain of $100,000 over last year. Attendance of 275,316 was 60,000 higher than a year ago.

If there's to be a rolling adjustment, it may not be too painful.

Poet's Corner

NOSTALGIA

The sun is setting northward
On its journey to the Spring,
And the brooding skies
Are brightening overhead;
It will be a bit like Heaven
Just to hear the robins sing
When winter's somber dreariness
Has fled.

There'll be days of weary waiting
Until spring and winter meet,—
But each coming day will lessen
Winter's gloom;
And no one will be glad as I
When lane and field and street
Are over-spread and canopied
With bloom.

Nature has its ordered cycles . . .
Each one set to time and place,—
But I wish the whole was blended
With the summer's warming grace,
Winter to my riant spirit
Is a dull and joyless thing;
And 'twill be a bit like Heaven
Just to hear the robins sing.

Father Of 3 Held In Lima Slaying

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (P)—William Swearingen, 27-year-old father of three, has been arrested for murder in the fatal shooting of a man during a robbery in Lima, Ohio, Dec. 10, 1954.

Sheriff M. J. Daffin and FBI agents arrested Swearingen last night at the Green Hills Community about 15 miles north of here.

A special FBI agent said Swearingen and two other men are charged in the robbery of the G&G Cafe in Lima. John Mooney, a customer, was shot to death during the holdup.

Two warrants against Swearingen were issued in Lima yesterday, one charging him with first degree murder in Mooney's death.

Special Prices On Most Meat

Some Good Buys In Fruit Market

(By The Associated Press)

By careful shopping, you should be able to find special prices on just about any kind of meat you want for this weekend.

A survey shows that some of the nation's food stores will feature chuck roast for economy and others will trim prices on prime ribs for sumptuous eating. There'll be special, too, on sirloin steaks.

Loins of pork will be widely featured, but you can look for higher prices on pork next week because hog quotations have risen. In fact, one large chain is posting increases of six cents a pound this week on center cut pork chops.

Frying chickens will cost about the same as a week ago in most areas but will be higher elsewhere.

Egg prices are going down. Reductions of two to four cents a dozen on large grade A whites will be fairly common. Among vegetables described as "moderately priced" are cauliflower, broccoli, cucumbers, peppers, beets, beans, squash, and carrots.

Good value in fruit is to be had in limes, oranges, grapefruit, tangerines (although they're a little higher), emperor grapes and apples.

Climbing Nude Seeking Divorce

ENID, Okla. (P)—Mrs. Ione Weir, who gained headlines four years ago as a tree-climbing nude sleep-walker, filed suit for divorce Wednesday.

She charged her husband, Wesley, with incompatibility and asked for support of their three children.

The blonde, attractive housewife attracted attention when she was found atop a tree in her yard without even a nightgown. She said she was afflicted with sleep walking, mostly when the moon was full.

After the incident, her husband jokingly remarked that he would shackle her to the bedpost to head off any future nocturnal wanderings.

Man Wants Job Milking Snakes

DALLAS (P)—An Employment commission interviewer is going to have to change the pet-dodge she has been using when there weren't any jobs for persistent job hunters. "All we have left," she would say, "is a job milking rattlesnakes." She used it this week on a man who wouldn't give up. "That's fine," said the man, brightening. "Where is it and how much does it pay? Just what I have been doing in Florida."

Red Cross Meeting

others interested in the reorganization of the Red Cross here felt that the whole community would suffer seriously by the loss of the services.

He mentioned two that they consider vital: (1) The blood program through which blood is supplied to patients in Memorial Hospital and to Fayette Counties who are patients in other participating hospitals and (2) the variety of help it gives to men and women in the armed forces.

Miss Evans has said many times that loss of the Red Cross blood program would be serious. Mark commented that "as administrator of the hospital, Miss Evans knows better than anyone else what the Red Cross blood has meant. . . there are people alive today, who would be in their graves had the Red Cross blood not been available."

Puts more Power where it Counts!

THE SECRET OF PONTIAC'S BLAZING GO
IS IN THE TEAMWORK OF TWO ENGINEERING MASTERPIECES

They were born to go together, these two—the mighty Strato-Streak V-8 engine and the revolutionary new Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic drive.

You can feel the difference . . . actually feel it. Feel it in the response—quick as the flick of an eyelash. Feel it in the tremendous thrust—oil smooth and effortless. And feel it in that breathtaking, almost unbelievable extra burst for the split-second sprint to safety past slow-moving traffic in your path.

Here is power and go you dream about . . . but this time it's real, because you're piloting the most modern power combination on the road . . .

A new engine: the brilliant Strato-Streak V-8 with almost 317 cubic inches of displacement for barrel-chested deep breathing . . . with a super-efficient 8.9 to 1 compression ratio to squeeze the last ounce of go out of every drop of gas . . . with high torque for sizzling take-off . . . with a blazing 227 horsepower!

A new transmission: an engineering masterpiece specifically designed to utilize the full thrust of that great engine . . . with gears for instant response and crisp, positive acceleration . . . and an amazing liquid-link coupling for a silky-smooth flow of power to the rear wheels.

Test drive this fabulous '56 Pontiac tomorrow—we promise you, you're in for a thrill!

And another thrill is waiting for you when you hear the price! See your Pontiac dealer soon—make it a special point to do it—and get ready for two wonderful discoveries!

helping many men in the service who were faced with emergencies, said the military authorities recognize the Red Cross and, with very few exceptions, grant any requests made through it.

The Red Cross chapter here has been without either a fulltime secretary or a permanent headquarters for more than five years. Following the retirement of Miss Mary Robinson, who had been the executive secretary here for many years, Mrs. Fred Cahall undertook the responsibilities on a part-time basis (actually, Mrs. Cahall devoted nearly her full time to the work) and made her home the headquarters.

Following her death last year, the chapter had been virtually without a head, or even a guiding hand, until Mrs. Leonard Korn agreed to carry on the work as part-time secretary. Leaders in the movement to revive the Red Cross here have expressed the hope that she would continue.

Some Of Cubs' 'New Faces' Appear To Be Familiar Ones

Editor's Note: Following is another in a series of articles appraising the rookie crop for the coming 1956 major league baseball season.

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP)—The Chicago Cubs' spring roster is dotted with newcomers but some of these "new faces" have a familiar look. It is on this group that the Cubs pin their hope for improvement.

The most interesting addition is 37-year-old Monte Irvin, the former slugging outfielder of the New York Giants who was drafted from Minneapolis last November for $10,000. Another "newcomer" is Omar (Turk) Lown who, at 32, has blossomed into an effective relief pitcher. The Cubs let him go several years ago only to rehire him after he had posted an impressive 12-5 record at Los Angeles, all in relief.

Then there is outfielder Walt

Moryn, who will be 30 before the regular season gets under way. Moryn was obtained from Brooklyn in the Randy Jackson deal last December. The big fellow had an unimpressive .248 batting mark with St. Paul last season but he slugged 25 homers and drove in 88 runs.

Personnel director Wid Matthews will be disappointed if both Irvin and Moryn fail to break into the regular lineup. He believes all Moryn needs is a chance to play regularly. Matthews is not concerned with Irvin's advanced age, either. At Minneapolis, Irvin batted .352 and rapped 14 home runs in 75 games.

Manager Stan Hack, naturally, also will devote a great deal of attention to the younger newcomers, including pitchers John Briggs, Gene Fodge and Jim Brosnan. Shortstop Richie Myers and outfielder Gale Wade, all of whom had outstanding seasons in the minors.

Briggs, 22, was purchased from Sacramento where he impressed Cub scouts with his 15-15 record for the last place club.

Brosnan, 26, also a righthander, was recalled from Chicago's Los Angeles farm club where he posted an impressive 17-10 record.

Wade, obtained from Cleveland a year ago in the Ralph Kiner deal, batted .310 at Los Angeles and stole 23 bases. He is 27.

Myers comes highly recommended as a defensive star. A light hitter, the 25-year-old shortstop batted .256 at Sacramento but he sparkled as a gloveman.

Outdoor Writers Tap Athens Man

CINCINNATI (AP)—Gene Knoder of Athens has been selected by the outdoor writers of Ohio as their "man of the year."

He was picked because of his work in producing a hybrid pheasant that shows promise of staying in sections of the state where such birds never prospered before.

He also is conducting experiments at the Waterloo Wildlife Experiment Station near Athens in an effort to re-establish wild turkeys in Ohio.

"IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD."

Cage Coach Of High-Flying Illini Nervous And Fidgety

CHICAGO (AP)—Harry Combes, Illinois' highly successful basketball coach, is nervous and fidgety these days, something like an expectant father.

With Illinois fifth ranked nationally and on top in the Big Ten, Combes is shooting for his fourth title since 1948. But a championship is not his immediate concern.

He's worried about the mid-season layoff. Illinois played its last game eight days ago and gets back into action Saturday against DePaul before going to Minnesota to resume Big Ten play Monday.

The Illini are noted for cooling off during the examination period and Combes knows it.

"After all," Combes told the Chicago Basketball Writers Tuesday, "these kids have been worrying about their exams and now they're worried about their grades."

Combes made no bones about Illinois' strength. "This figured to be a good team," he said. "We had our starting lineup back and some good sophomore material."

Seniors Bill Ridley and Paul Judson are carrying the load along with junior center George Bon-Salle.

"Ridley and Judson have done a wonderful job and our other senior, Bruce Brothers, has been there when we've needed him," continued Combes. "BonSalle is doing very well and he's found he can play 40 minutes."

"With Ted Caiazza out for the season with an injured leg, BonSalle is our only real center," Combes felt his team reached its peak in its last two games. The Illini knocked off Indiana 96-72 and then smacked Purdue, 92-76, to run their string to nine straight and a 4-0 mark in the Big Ten. Illinois' overall record is 10-1, losing to Missouri, 74-73, in the second game of the season.

Combes' fears over the mid-season layoff might be premature since Illinois could grow stronger with the possible return of Phil Judson, Paul's twin.

Warriors, Pistons Pacing Pro Loop

NEW YORK (AP)—The Philadelphia Warriors and the Fort Wayne Pistons each held commanding leads today in the National Basketball Assn. eastern and western divisions.

The Warriors, led by Paul Arizin's 26 points, downed the Syracuse Nats 112-100 last night to gain a game on the second-place Boston Celtics in the eastern division. The Celtics were knocked off by Fort Wayne 101-100 and dropped 4½ games behind.

In other games, the Minneapolis

Lakers defeated the New York Knickerbockers 104-95 and the St. Louis Hawks beat the Rochester Royals 114-106.

Milo Savage, who boxed Eduardo Laussee to a draw, worked in Utah copper mines for three years.

TROY (AP)—Fight Promoter Jack Laken of Dayton says the fight program scheduled here tonight will go on despite warnings that any fighter appearing on the card will be suspended.

Al Bechtold, Cincinnati, president of the Ohio Assn. of Boxing and Wrestling Commissions, yesterday renewed his threat to suspend participants in the program. Laken, who blamed bad weather for calling for the fights last Thursday, said "The show will go on."

Cage Coach Of High-Flying Illini Nervous And Fidgety

CHICAGO (AP)—Harry Combes, Illinois' highly successful basketball coach, is nervous and fidgety these days, something like an expectant father.

With Illinois fifth ranked nationally and on top in the Big Ten, Combes is shooting for his fourth title since 1948. But a championship is not his immediate concern.

He's worried about the mid-season layoff. Illinois played its last game eight days ago and gets back into action Saturday against DePaul before going to Minnesota to resume Big Ten play Monday.

The Illini are noted for cooling off during the examination period and Combes knows it.

"After all," Combes told the Chicago Basketball Writers Tuesday, "these kids have been worrying about their exams and now they're worried about their grades."

Combes made no bones about Illinois' strength. "This figured to be a good team," he said. "We had our starting lineup back and some good sophomore material."

Seniors Bill Ridley and Paul Judson are carrying the load along with junior center George Bon-Salle.

"Ridley and Judson have done a wonderful job and our other senior, Bruce Brothers, has been there when we've needed him," continued Combes. "Bon-Salle is doing very well and he's found he can play 40 minutes."

"With Ted Calazza out for the season with an injured leg, Bon-Salle is our only real center."

Combes felt his team reached its peak in its last two games. The Illini knocked off Indiana 96-72 and then smacked Purdue, 92-76, to run their string to nine straight and a 4-0 mark in the Big Ten. Illinois' overall record is 10-1, losing to Missouri, 74-73, in the second game of the season.

Combes' fears over the mid-season layoff might be premature since Illinois could grow stronger with the possible return of Phil Judson, Paul's twin.

Warriors, Pistons Pacing Pro Loop

NEW YORK (AP)—The Philadelphia Warriors and the Fort Wayne Pistons each held commanding leads today in the National Basketball Assn. eastern and western divisions.

The Warriors, led by Paul Arizin's 26 points, downed the Syracuse Nats 112-100 last night to gain a game on the second-place Boston Celtics in the eastern division. The Celtics were knocked off by Fort Wayne 101-100 and dropped 4½ games behind.

In other games, the Minneapolis

Lakers defeated the New York Knickerbockers 104-95 and the St. Louis Hawks beat the Rochester Royals 114-106.

Milo Savage, who boxed Eduardo Laussee to a draw, worked in Utah copper mines for three years.

Winter Olympic Games Opened By Italy Chief

Russia, Norway Vie For Top Honors In Global Snow Tests

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP)—The snow-starved seventh Winter Olympic games opened in Cortina's modernistic 12,000-seat ice stadium today as 1,100 athletes from 39 nations paraded in brilliantly colored attire.

Russia, competing for the first time in the international winter competition, is expected to challenge Norway for the unofficial top honors.

President Giovanni Gronchi of Italy proclaimed the games open and Giuliana Chenal Minuzzo, Italian ski champion, took the Olympic oath of fair play on behalf of the competitors. It was the first time a woman had been given this honor.

The opening day competition was confined to two hockey games—Italy vs Austria and Canada vs Germany—as athletes and officials alike anxiously watched for snow that could change the icy, rocky ski courses into perfect runs. Snow was hauled in from nearby mountains to the center of town to make the parade more realistic.

The marching athletes were led by the tiny Greek delegation, as is Olympic custom.

The big U.S. team wore the gaudiest uniforms of them all—bright red fur caps, sparkling white jackets and blue pants. The Russians were attired in brown fur caps and powder blue coats.

The words with which President Gronchi formally opened the games, as prescribed by protocol, were starkly simple.

"I declare open the seventh Olympic Winter games of Cortina celebrating the 18th Olympiad of the modern era."

Guido Caroli, Italian speed skating champion, brought in the torch which was lit Sunday in Rome and the Olympic flame was started—to burn day and night until the competition is over (Feb. 5).

The U.S. flag was carried by Jim Bickford of Saranac Lake, N. Y., husky, 43-year-old veteran of three previous Olympics. Caroli received the Olympic torch in the stadium. He circled the stadium on his skates, holding the torch aloft.

He hit microphone wires in front of the presidential box and fell headlong but somehow hung on to the torch. He quickly righted himself and resumed gliding around the stadium. At the open end of the arena, Caroli walked slowly up the ramp and stood alongside of the big bowl that becomes the Olympic torch for these games.

After holding the torch straight up, the Italian pointed it into the bowl and the flame shot up. The crowd roared at the completion of the traditional ceremony.

State Hunting Deaths Eyed By Experts

NEW YORK (AP)—Why is it that the hunters of one state go at their sport with a minimum of peril to their fellowman, while hunters in the state next door bowl over their colleagues by the dozen?

The question fascinates conservation officials, safety groups, students of field sports and observers in general. But they don't have any ready answers.

Look at this record and you can see why:

Utah reported only one hunter killed in 1955. Adjoining Idaho killed 15, wounded 22. Wyoming recorded only one fatality and four wounding.

And that's the way it goes across the nation.

Maine reported nine fatalities and 50 non-fatal gun accidents. New Hampshire had none killed for the second straight year.

Missouri had one fatality. Nebraska was working on a six-year string of seasons without a gunshot fatality. Ohio's string of eight consecutive deer seasons without a death was ended in 1955. However, Buckeye small game hunters made up for it by shooting 18 persons to death.

Texas counted over a new record high with 35 killed. But neighboring New Mexico had only three fatalities.

Bill Bruton set a record for the Milwaukee Braves by hitting into only two double plays in 1955. Roy Hartsfield hit into three double plays for the 1950 Boston Braves.

Next Lion Game Is To Be Feb. 3

Only 2 County Teams To Play Friday Night

With scheduling slightly akilter due to bad weather postponements Jan. 20, high schools in this area are trying to make up for the lost time. But for some schools, the postponement means crowding the schedule during the tough end-of-season competition.

With Coach Ray Oliver of Hillsboro High School ill, Washington C. H. Lion Coach Herb Russell has been unable to re-schedule the postponed Jan. 20 game. He would like to fit it in between Feb. 4 and 14 if possible, he said. If that can't be done it will put a bit of extra pressure on the boys.

The next game for the Lions will be with the Tigers at Circleville on Feb. 3.

The Madison Mills — Bloomingburg game postponed Jan. 20 has been rescheduled for Jan. 30, at Bloomingburg. Neither team will be hit by a squeezed schedule then.

Jeffersonville and Good Hope, set to play Jan. 20 but snowed out, will be meeting at the Jeff court Feb. 4. That will mean a game for both teams Feb. 3 and 4, putting a bit of extra pressure on the clubs.

Jeff meets Bloomingburg Feb. 3 and Good Hope plays Madison Mills on the same night.

The schedule for this week calls for ten games in the Fayette County and South Central Ohio Leagues.

Friday night the Bloomingburg Bulldogs travel to Bowersville while the Jeff Tigers go to Atlanta, for non-league games.

The one SCO league game scheduled for Friday will send Circleville's Tigers to Wilmington.

Also scheduled for Friday evening is Greenfield at Portsmouth East, Hillsboro at Lucasville and New Holland at Salter Creek.

Saturday night the Hillsboro Indians will play at Portsmouth.

Tuesday the Good Hope Mad Ants meet Fairfield on the Wayne court.

The Cincinnati Redlegs have working agreements with Seattle of the Pacific Coast League, Havana of the International League and Nashville of the Southern Assn.

Big Ten Data Show Illini's Superiority

CHICAGO (AP)—Illinois' hold on first place in the Big Ten basketball race was reflected today in official conference statistics which show the Illini taking more shots and hitting at a better percentage than any other team.

The tremendous pace built by Illinois in sweeping to four league victories without a loss must be maintained, however, to head off a challenge by the Iowa Hawkeyes, who have won four straight after an opening Big Ten defeat.

Coach Harry Combes of the Illini fears that his team may suffer from an enforced layoff of competition during semester examinations. Illinois' last game was with Purdue Jan. 16. It meets DePaul in Chicago Stadium Saturday night then gets back into Big Ten business at Minnesota Monday.

The Illini are averaging 77 field goal attempts per game and hitting on 406 per cent of them—both top marks in the conference. They have made 125 out of 308 field goal shots and are averaging a pace-setting 89 points per game.

Iowa is averaging 70 shots, hitting 400. The Hawkeyes are averaging 76 points, far below Illinois, but have held opponents to a conference low of 66 per game. Illinois has yielded 72.

Campy Awarded Top Bum Salary

BROOKLYN (AP)—Roy Campanella, who two years ago feared his baseball career was over, now is the highest priced player in Brooklyn Dodger history.

The jovial catcher, whose comeback in 1955 perhaps was the biggest single factor in bringing Brooklyn its first world championship signed a contract yesterday calling for an estimated $42,500. He got other $38,000 the last two years. No other Brook player ever has cracked the 40-grand mark.

Giambra Closer To Title Match

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Joey Giambra is nearer a crack at the world middleweight boxing championship after a fast finish last night gave him a unanimous 10-round decision over Al Andrews.

Giambra, from Buffalo, N. Y., swept the last three rounds on the cards of referee Elder Craft, who voted 97-88 and judges John Burton 96-94 and Charles Ford 96-95.

It was Giambra's first fight since he lost a close decision to Bobo Olson last August. Giambra's victory was his 42nd in 47 fights.

Greenberg, Cronin Named To Hall Fame

NEW YORK (AP)—Hank Greenberg, who in 1938 came within three of breaking Babe Ruth's record of 60 home runs, and Joe Cronin, the most expensive player in baseball, took their places today in Baseball's Hall of Fame.

The two slugging right-handed hitters earned membership to the shrine at Cooperstown, N. Y., yesterday when they received more than the necessary 75 per cent of the vote of the 10-year members of the Baseball Writers' Assn. They became the 80th and 81st Hall of Famers.

Greenberg was named on 164 of the 193 ballots cast to 152 for Cronin. Only players active in the 1930-50 period were eligible and they could not have been active as a coach or manager within the last five years. The pair will be inducted formally at the Cooperstown Museum next July.

Greenberg, 45, who quit as a player in 1947, now is in his sixth year as general manager of the Cleveland Indians.

Cronin, 49, has been general manager of the Boston Red Sox since 1948, two years after he retired as a player. In 1934 he was sold by Washington to Boston for a record price of $250,000 and immediately was named manager of the Red Sox.

In all, 130 former players received mention, including several who were not eligible because their playing careers had ended before 1930.

Charlie (Red) Ruffing, an outstanding pitcher with the New York Yankee pennant winners in the '30s and '40s, was third with 97 votes. Other top vote-getters were Ed Roush, 91; Lefty Gomez, 89; and Hack Wilson, 74.

Quarter Million Paid Out For New Kansas City Talent

Editor's Note: Following is another in a series of articles dealing with the rookie crop for the 1956 major league baseball season.

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP)—Owner Arnold Johnson of the Kansas City Athletics has spent an estimated $250,000 in cash and players for minor league talent in an effort to improve the club for 1956.

Johnson paid a reported $100,000 in cash and players for Lou Kretlow and Joe Ginsberg, veteran Seattle battery. Pitcher Bill Bradford, shortstop Mike Baxes and outfielder Dave Melton were purchased from San Francisco for an other $75,000. Rance Pless, Minneapolis third baseman and the American Assn's leading hitter and most valuable player cost an estimated $30,000. Pitcher Glen Cox from Montreal was obtained for $20,000 and Jack Crimian of Toronto was $25,000.

In addition, the A's brought up a flock of players from their farm clubs and drafted a promising young right-hander named Bill Herriague, who won 15 and lost seven at Montgomery, Ala.

Recalled pitching farmhands include Mike Kume, Allan Romberger, Gus Keriazakos, Bill Harrington and Carl Duser, all with non-imposing records at Columbus; Walt Craddock from Savannah and Ed Burtch from Portland.

It is from Kretlow, Crimian, Cox and Bradford that manager Lou Boudreau expects the most help. Kretlow, a steady loser with Detroit, St. Louis and Baltimore won 11 straight following his release from Baltimore and wound up with a 14-3 record and a gaudy 2.47 ERA.

Crimian, who had a brief fling with the St. Louis Cardinals, figures to provide Boudreau with another fine reliever. The 29-year-old right-hander had a 19-6 record with Toronto. Cox was 11-5 at Montreal. Bradford had an impressive 12-3 mark at San Francisco.

Pless batted .337, hit 26 home runs and drove in 107 runs.

Missouri had one fatality. Nebraska was working on a six-year string of seasons without a gunshot fatality. Ohio's string of eight consecutive deer seasons without a death was ended in 1955. However, Buckeye small game hunters made up for it by shooting 18 persons to death.

Texas counted over a new record high with 35 killed. But neighboring New Mexico had only three fatalities.

Bill Bruton set a record for the Milwaukee Braves by hitting into only two double plays in 1955. Roy Hartsfield hit into three double plays for the 1950 Boston Braves.

Next Lion Game Is To Be Feb. 3

Only 2 County Teams To Play Friday Night

With scheduling slightly aklter due to bad weather postponements Jan. 20, high schools in this area are trying to make up for the lost time. But for some schools, the postponement means crowding the schedule during the tough end-of-season competition.

With Coach Ray Olliver of Hillsboro High School ill, Washington C. H. Lion Coach Herb Russell has been unable to re-schedule the postponed Jan. 20 game. He would like to fit it in between Feb. 4 and 14 if possible, he said. If that can't be done it will put a bit of extra pressure on the boys.

The next game for the Lions will be with the Tigers at Circleville on Feb. 3.

The Madison Mills — Bloomingburg game postponed Jan. 20 has been rescheduled for Jan. 30, at Bloomingburg. Neither team will be hit by a squeezed schedule then.

Jeffersonville and Good Hope, set to play Jan. 20 but snowed out, will be meeting at the Jeff court Feb. 4. That will mean a game for both teams Feb. 3 and 4, putting a bit of extra pressure on the clubs.

Jeff meets Bloomingburg Feb. 3 and Good Hope plays Madison Mills on the same night.

The schedule for this week calls for ten games in the Fayette County and South Central Ohio Leagues.

Friday night the Bloomingburg Bulldogs travel to Bowersville while the Jeff Tigers go to Atlanta, for non-league games.

The one SCO league game scheduled for Friday will send Circleville's Tigers to Wilmington.

Also scheduled for Friday evening is Greenfield at Portsmouth East, Hillsboro at Lucasville and New Holland at Saltcreek.

Saturday night the Hillsboro Indians will play at Portsmouth.

Tuesday the Good Hope Mad Anthonies meet Fairfield on the Wayne court.

The Cincinnati Redlegs have working agreements with Seattle of the Pacific Coast League, Havana of the International League and Nashville of the Southern Assn.

Big Ten Data Show Illini's Superiority

CHICAGO (AP)—Illinois' hold on first place in the Big Ten basketball race was reflected today in official conference statistics which show the Illini taking more shots and hitting at a better percentage than any other team.

The tremendous pace built by Illinois in sweeping to four league victories without a loss must be maintained, however, to head off a challenge by the Iowa Hawkeyes, who have won four straight after an opening Big Ten defeat.

Coach Harry Combes of the Illini fears that his team may suffer from an enforced layoff of competition during semester examinations. Illinois' last game was with Purdue Jan. 16. It meets DePaul in Chicago Stadium Saturday night then gets back into Big Ten business at Minnesota Monday.

The Illini are averaging 77 field goal attempts per game and hitting on 406 per cent of them—both top marks in the conference. They have made 125 out of 308 field goal shots and are averaging a pace-setting 89 points per game.

Iowa is averaging 70 shots, hitting 400. The Hawkeyes are averaging 76 points, far below Illinois, but have held opponents to a conference low of 66 per game. Illinois has yielded 72.

Campy Awarded Top Bum Salary

BROOKLYN (AP)—Roy Campanella, who two years ago feared his baseball career was over, now is the highest priced player in Brooklyn Dodger history.

The jovial catcher, whose comeback in 1955 perhaps was the biggest single factor in bringing Brooklyn its first world championship signed a contract yesterday calling for an estimated $42,500. He got about $38,000 the last two years. No other Brook player ever has cracked the 40-grand mark.

Giambra Closer To Title Match

ship after a fast finish last night gave him a unanimous 10-round decision over Al Andrews.

Giambra, from Buffalo, N. Y., swept the last three rounds on the cards of referee Elder Craft, who voted 97-88 and judges John Burton 96-94 and Charles Ford 96-95.

It was Giambra's first fight since he lost a close decision to Bobo Olson last August. Giambra's victory was his 42nd in 47 fights.

Greenberg, Cronin Named To Hall Fame

NEW YORK (AP)—Hank Greenberg, who in 1938 came within three of breaking Babe Ruth's record of 60 home runs, and Joe Cronin, the most expensive player in baseball, took their places alongside the game's immortals today in Baseball's Hall of Fame.

The two slugging right-handed hitters earned membership to the shrine at Cooperstown, N. Y., yesterday when they received more than the necessary 75 per cent of the vote of the 10-year members of the Baseball Writers' Assn. They became the 82th and 81st Hall Of Famers.

Greenberg was named on 164 of the 193 ballots cast to 152 for Cronin. Only players active in the 1930-50 period were eligible and they could not have been active as a coach or manager within the last five years. The pair will be inducted formally at the Cooperstown Museum next July.

Greenberg, 45, who quit as a player in 1947, now is in his sixth year as general manager of the Cleveland Indians.

Cronin, 49, has been general manager of the Boston Red Sox since 1948, two years after he retired as a player. In 1934 he was sold by Washington to Boston for a record price of $250,000 and immediately was named manager of the Red Sox.

In all, 130 former players received mention, including several who were not eligible because their playing careers had ended before 1930.

Charlie (Red) Ruffing, an outstanding pitcher with the New York Yankee pennant winners in the '30s and '40s, was third with 97 votes. Other top vote-getters were Ed Roush, 91; Lefty Gomez, 89; and Hack Wilson, 74.

Quarter Million Paid Out For New Kansas City Talent

Editor's Note: Following is another in a series of articles dealing with the rookie crop for the 1956 major league baseball season.

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Owner Arnold Johnson of the Kansas City Athletics has spent an estimated $250,000 in cash and players for minor league talent in an effort to improve the club for 1956.

Johnson paid a reported $100,000 in cash and players for Lou Kretlow and Joe Ginsberg, veteran Seattle battery. Pitcher Bill Bradford, shortstop Mike Baxes and outfielder Dave Melton were purchased from San Francisco for an other $75,000. Rance Pless, Minneapolis third baseman and the American Assn's leading hitter and most valuable player cost an estimated $30,000. Pitcher Glen Cox from Montreal was obtained for $20,000 and Jack Crimian of Toronto was $25,000.

In addition, the A's brought up a flock of players from their farm clubs and drafted a promising young right-hander named Bill Herriague, who won 15 and lost seven at Montgomery, Ala.

Recalled pitching farmhands include Mike Kume, Allan Romberger, Gus Keriazakos, Bill Harrington and Carl Duser, all with non-imposing records at Columbus; Walt Craddock from Savannah and Ed Burtschy from Portland.

It is from Kretlow, Crimian, Cox and Bradford that manager Lou Boudreau expects the most help. Kretlow, a steady loser with Detroit, St. Louis and Baltimore won 11 straight following his release from Baltimore and wound up with a 14-3 record and a gaudy 2.47 ERA.

Crimian, who had a brief fling with the St. Louis Cardinals, figures to provide Boudreau with another fine reliever. The 29-year-old right-hander had a 19-6 record with Toronto. Cox was 11-5 at Montreal. Bradford had an impressive 12-3 mark at San Francisco.

Pless batted .337, hit 26 home runs and drove in 107 runs.

A Fayette County farmer, Frank Sollars, was awarded first place honors in the untreated legume silage class of silage show that featured the opening day, Thursday, of the three-day meeting of the Ohio Federation of Soil Conservation Districts at Columbus.

Second place went to Robert B. Tunis of Zanesville.

Sollars is president of both the Fayette County Soil Conservation District and the state federation.

Most of the other directors of the Fayette County district were planning to take in at least some of the sessions of the meeting now going on in Columbus. Lee Cleland, the U. S. Soil Conservation Service technician assigned to Fayette County, and Willard Bitzer, former chairman of the state Board of Agriculture and Cleland's aid, also expected to spend some time at the meeting.

Awards were presented to Sollars and the other winners in the silage show and competition by A. W. Marion, the state director of natural resources.

First place winners in six classes were named by Dr. Charles F. Rogers of the agronomy department, Ohio Agriculture Experiment Station.

The silages were judged on the basis of palatability, moisture and feed value.

The winners were:

McMullen Murder Hearing Under Way

A jury of eight women and four men was impeached at Troy to hear the first degree murder charges against Edward A. McMullen, 28, of Greenfield, charged with slaying Cleveland Chipley in Troy, in December, 1954.

After opening statements were made, the jury visited the scene of the crime, and the work of taking testimony got under way Wednesday.

Chipley was slain by burglars at his used furniture store in Troy, and $1,100 stolen from him.

Cecil Maddy, also of Greenfield, jointly indicted with McMullen, will be tried later. He is still in jail at Troy.

Deep interest centers in the testimony of Glen Purdin, of Greenfield, held in jail at Troy following his arrest in Missouri where he had fled to escape testifying in the case.

Police Officer

ing a traffic accident, he reported it to the police.

The officer discovered the gun while checking the brakes of Neff's car and took possession of it and took Neff to headquarters.

There, Palmer said, he consulted with his superior officer and solicitor William Junk regarding the statutory provisions surrounding the gun and what form of affidavit should be filed.

Neff and his employer had explained why the loaded pistol was in the car, it was noted in the decision, and their claims were not reported to the solicitor and no further investigation was made by the officer.

The court held that since the officer did not know the plaintiff, it was reasonable to conclude that there was no actual malice on the part of the defendant arising out of any previous acquaintance.

The decision holds that the officer's attitude after the gun was found tended to show malice.

The court found that the evidence showed the gun was not concealed. It was held that the evidence also showed that Neff lost his job and was out of employment for some time as result of the action filed against him, and of which he was cleared.

Costs of the case also was assessed against the defendants.

Sheriff Quizzing Vandal Suspects

Sheriff Orland Hays is continuing his investigation into the vandalism at the summer cottages of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Minshall and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Woodard, at Rock Bridge, recently.

He has questioned a number of youths regarding the crime, the worst of its kind ever committed in Fayette County, and has others lined up for questioning late Thursday.

All possible clues in connection with the case are being worked in an effort to bring the vandals into court for proper punishment.

Damage in the two summer homes was placed at around $2,000.

district. Six centers have been set up for each shift and the girls will concentrate on these heavily-traveled areas.

The girls will be based on all four corners of Fayette and Court Streets and on the southeast and northwest corners of Court and Main Streets.

Like the Mothers March leaders, the girls are a bit apprehensive about the weather. But they are just as determined to push the sale if the elements offer them any kind of break.

Said Miss Marjorie Evans, advisor of the Senior Y-Teens, "If the weather is so terrible that there will be few people downtown, I suppose we'll have to postpone it. But if the weather is at all suitable, we want to go ahead with it."

THE SENIOR Y-Teen group is the one Sarah Core would have belonged to if she had been able to return to school after contracting polio last October. She is instead undergoing treatment in Childrens Hospital in Columbus for muscle weakness, aftermath of the disease.

All the members of the Senior Y-Teens are in their junior or senior years at the high school. The 28 who are joining the Blue Crutch sale are:

Marqueta Smith, Patty Sowers, Charlene Engle, Mary Ann Carr, Nancy Hurt, Pat Scott, Jo Reiff;

Jean Persinger, Wanda Tracey, Linda Frederick, Nancy Reno, Linda Hidy, Sandra Cook, Linda Rice, Peggy Bandy, Ann Merriweather, Patty Hunter;

Peggy Dowler, JoAnn Williamson, Joan Willis, Diana Everhart, Phyllis Fisher, Sandra Stagg, Wilma Brown, Becky Johnson, Susan Wissler, Jo Ann Sheridan and Susan Swengel.

Youthful Auto Thief Caught

A 16-year old Columbus boy, Adam Renner, was taken into custody here Wednesday night by Deputy Sheriff Don Thompson, while driving an automobile he had stolen in Columbus.

His arrest followed an alert from the Mt. Sterling police, and search for the stolen car by the police and deputy sheriff.

Deputy Thompson picked up the trail of Renner on South North Street and rounded him up within a few minutes at the intersection of South Fayette Street and Circle Avenue.

Renner halted at once when the deputy drove alongside with siren open and red-light showing.

When searched it was found that he had several dollars in small change, trading stamps, and other articles stuffed in his pockets.

Belief was expressed by Sheriff Orland Hays that Renner had burglarized a service station or other place.

He was placed in the county jail and later officers from Columbus came after him. They also returned the stolen car to Columbus.

Belief was expressed by Sheriff Orland Hays that Renner had burglarized a service station or other place.

He was placed in the county jail and later officers from Columbus came after him. They also returned the stolen car to Columbus.
